fantastics, fabulous city Bangkok, in the '60sfi a spec- of enchanting pagodas and ets rose tier on tier over reses of 20th Century-Fox's lot as a setting for "Anna the King of Siam," the first n picture to use that col- and exotic country of the for its locale. This picture ming to the Pine Cone, on y and Saturday.

picture, starring Irene Rex Harrison and Linda ell, and directed by John well, is said to be one of the most spectacular in the his- tory of the shows in Brookings. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, for three days, the Pine Cone will bring Linda Darnell's new status as the screen's most-beau- tiful-and-murdered access, in her current role in John Ford's "My Darling Clementine," a 20th Cen- tury-Fox production.

Linda was turned into a corpse by various violent means in the shows "Hangover Square", Buf- falo Bill," "Fallen Angel" and "Anna and the King of Siam."

In her last picture, "Centen- nial Summer," the jinx was broken when she lived to the end. But "My Darling Clemen- tine" put her back in the groove. Next Wednesday and Thursday evenings the Pine Cone brings Alfred Hitchcock's suspense-dra- ma, "Shadow of A Doubt," start- ing Joseph Cotten and Teresa Wright. The theme is woven on the life of a murdered, portrayed by Cotten, hibernating in the home of distant relatives who are unaware of his criminal rec- ord. MacDonald Carey, Patricia Collinge, Henry Travers, Wallace Ford and Hume Cronyn have keys roles.
