

Gold Beach Man Will Guide A 4-H Accounting Club

Members Must Have Actual Farm Accounts To Keep, in Course

GOLD BEACH—Oregon Bankers Association just named C. E. Young, Curry County Bank cashier, a membership on the agricultural committee. His title is county agricultural chairman of the association of Curry County for 1947.

This is the title replacing that of County Key Banker, formerly used in designating agricultural contact with their organization.

In this capacity Mr. Young has offered to lead a 4-H club in farm accounting. Five or more boys or girls eligible for 4-H club work and in the upper age bracket would be eligible for a membership on a county-wide basis.

One requirement would involve that the member must have an operative farm on which to keep actual accounts.

Oregon Bankers Association feels that this is excellent training in farm accounting which is quite essential to successful agriculture and successful farming.
