

Re-Burial Of World War 2 Dead Will Be Decided Soon By "Next Of Kin"

Letters will be sent this week to more than 20,000 next of kin of American dead who now rest in 15 of the 200 temporary military cemeteries overseas as the first step in determining the final resting places of those who died outside the continental limits of the United States during World War 2, the war department announced today.

Forms on which next of kin will be asked to indicate where they wish final burial to be made will be increased in the letters, according to Major General T. B. Larkin, the quartermaster general of the army, chief of the American graves registration service. Similar letters and forms will be sent over a period of 18 months to all next of kin of world war 2 dead whose remains have been recovered and positively identified.

The first letters to be dispatched will go to next of kin of American dead who are now interred in the following cemeteries:

U. S. Military cemetery at St. Laurent, France;

U. S. Military cemetery at Henri Chapell, Belgium;

U. S. Military cemetery at Cambridge, England;

U. S. Military cemetery at Nettuna, Italy.

U. S. Military cemetery at Gela, Italy.

European cemetery at Casablanca, French Morocco.

American cemetery at Gafst, Tunisia.

American cemetery at Tunis, Tunisia.

Schofield Barracks cemetery, Oahu, Hawaii.

Hadawa Naval cemetery, at Oahu, Hawaii.

Mokapu cemetery at Kaneohe naval air station, Oahu, Hawaii.

Nuuanu cemetery, Oahu, Hawaii.

U. S. Army Cemetery, located at Momelani, Hilo, Hawaii.

U. S. Army Cemetery, located at Makawea, Maui, Hawaii.

U. S. Army Cemetery, located at Makaweli, Hauuui, Hawaii.

Only a portion of the next of kin of the armed forces personnel buried in the cemeteries at Henri Chapelle, Belgium, and Cambridge England, will be sent letters initially, due to operational considerations. In the future, however, the letters of inquiry will be sent to all concerned.

Letters sent to next of kin will be signed by General Larkin. In addition to the form on which the decision as to final burial will be indicated, the letter will also include a pamphlet giving information on the program for return and final burial of World War 2 dead, a pamphlet describing permanent military cemeteries overseas and national cemeteries in the United States, and a franked envelope. Next of kin have been asked to fill out the disposition of remains form within 30 days and to return it in the franked, self-addressed envelope.

Next of kin may choose to have the remains of World War 2 armed forces personnel who died overseas returned to the United States for burial in a private cemetery; returned to the United States for burial in a national cemetery; buried in a permanent United States military cemetery overseas; or buried in a private cemetery in a foreign country which is the homeland of the deceased or of the next of kin.

Evangelist Will Continue Series Of Lectures Here

Three More Lectures Billed For Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

Evangelist J. J. Dollinger spoke to a capacity house at Chetco Inn Sunday night when he talked on "The Coming Man Who Will Bring Peace and Happiness."

In substance the speaker said the builders of our country looked forward to the return of Christ, for inscribed on the high dome of the nation's capitol are these words: "One God, one law, one element, one far-off event toward which All Creation Moves." His coming would be a literal one, in the same manner as He went to Heaven, and would be seen by every eye.

"When Angels preach from Mid-Air" refers to a prophecy found in Revelation 14:6-12, and was Monday's lecture. The talk Tuesday night "The Bridge Leading from Death to Life" was illustrated with a miniature bridge.

Lectures for the coming week are announced elsewhere in this issue.

People attending these lectures are commenting on the information gained and also the inspirational singing conducted by Mr. Roseburg of Grants Pass, who has been connected with the evangelist, singing for many years throughout the United States.

Those unable to attend these lectures who would like reading matter, may obtain this from James Bishop, Brookings.

Kitchen Hints

From MARY ANN JOHNSON

When using fly paper, it is likely to fall or come in contact with clothing, furniture, etc. After removing the paper, apply a generous amount of kerosene to the article, and it will quickly remove the sticky substance. It does not injure clothing and is readily evaporated. Try this and you will be pleased with the results.

A flannel wet with kerosene will remove fly specks from brass—polish with chamois.

A woolen cloth, dampened with gasoline will make the dirt disappear as if by magic when used for cleaning porcelain sinks, any bathtubs, or marble washbowls.

Gasoline is a sovereign remedy for bugs. It can be liberally poured on the mattress, springs and bed without injuring the most delicate carpet, and every bug will disappear. Keep this away from any fire.

FLOWERS NOW

Closed eyes can't seen the white roses
Cold hands can't hold them you know
Breath that is stilled cannot gather
The sweet precious odors that blow;
Death with a peace beyond all dreaming.
Its children of earth doth endow;
Life is the time we can help them,
Please give me my flowers now.
