

Flower Show Rules Released By Azalea Garden Club

Garden Club Suggests Means For Speeding Arrangements

convenience of those who enter exhibits at the Garden Club flower show, held at the school gymnasium Saturday and Sunday, next, the club has asked the Pilot to publish this set of rules:

Enter school building at the door (in rear).

Make arrangements in typing before taking to classification entry booth. Water is available in that room.

Tables will be up, with directions for making entry.

It would be better if arrangements were fixed at home as it saves time and confusion.

For Care of Flowers

Cut flowers with a sharp

Cut stems on a slant so they do not fit close to bottom of containers.

Cut flowers before sunrise or sunset, and put into deep water for 2 to 12 hours.

Crush the stems of woody

Burn or boil stems of poplars. Some use 1/2 teaspoon of mint extract added to qt. of water in place of boiling).

Be sure your flowers are in good condition and the water in containers are clean.

View From the Spot Where Queen Joane 1 Will "Reign"

Every great event must have a setting—and what a setting this is for Queen Joane I and her court to be crown, and to reign. This view is taken, looking toward the "overlook" where the coronation of the queen will take place.

While the early spring has "forced" azaleas to a stage of blooming a little past their peak, still there remain many bushes which will display the beauty that is peculiar only to this park. These shrubs are estimated to be over four hundred years old.

Mrs. Goldie Smith, local postmaster, moved from her apartment above the old post office to the house she purchased from Mrs. Henry, the first of the week. Mrs. Smith formerly owned this house, having sold it a couple of years ago to Mrs. Henry.
