Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hendricks of Hendricks Furniture Store, left early Sunday morning for a week's buying tour of the furniture markets of the San Francisco area. The store is under management of Jim Yelton during their absence.

On Wednesday, August 13, the Women's Circle of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Judkins. Plans will be made for a "white elephant" sale to be held on Aug. 21, with proceeds to go to the parsonage fund.

Work is progressing rapidly at the Grayshel building where the Moore's Variety and Apparel shop soon will be located. Counter, tables and shelves are being erected by Fred Moore, and as soon as the painting is done, the business will move into its new home.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph M. Johnson of Gold Beach were weekend guests of Mrs. Goldie V. Smith, local post master.

While the Rod and Gun Club picnic was officially postponed a second time, Sunday, several of the members went, anyway, to the myrtle grove. By mid-afternoon the number had risen to about 35. The children enjoyed swimming in the Chetco, while the grown-ups tried their hands at practice casting.

A concrete floor was poured late last week at the Brookings Market basement to complete the entire basement floor, and permitting a better storage space for use by the store.

Conner Kessler returned late last week from Corvallis where he made necessary arrangements to enroll in September, at Oregon State College. Going under the GI bill, Conner told the Pilot that he would necessarily be housed at Adair village, some eight miles out of Corvallis, on the way toward Monmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Rigdon and their daughter, Mrs. Walter Bomhoff, were week-end visitors at Grants Pass, where Mr. Rigdon attended to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baines, of the Mall Chain Saw sales company here, were Coquille visitors over the week-end where they visited their son, agent at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Dimond of Portland were Wednesday afternoon and Thursday visitors in this area, calling on old-time friends. Head of Paper Mills Agency of Oregon, a wholesale paper distributor, Mr. Dimond called on the Pilot while here. He formerly was editor of the Newberg Graphic.

Guests at the V. A. Mendenhall Sr. home the past week included: K. L. Mendenhall of the Hawthorne Hardware, Portland, brother; and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Putnam of Portland; Mrs. R. H. Carter of Newberg, sister of the Mendenhall Bros. and Mrs. L. L. Manlove of Tualatin, Ore., another sister, and her husband, and Mrs. Marjorie Pierce of Portland. While here K. L. Mendenhall received word of the birth of a grandson, K. L. Mendenhall III. All the visitors expressed their predictions for the future of this area. They left for California where they were headed on business matters.
