Howdy, Folks: Fall hats soon will be much in evidence. Well, a hat's the best thing to put on a bald head.

There's one party that all men take their hats off to and that's the barbers here, Lloyd and Hank.

An old saying is that if a man removes his hat in an elevator, it's because he has good manners and lots of hair.

On the other hand, if he doesn't remove his hat and expose his bald head, he exposes his bad manners.

We wonder if the milliners do not work in the mirror to make sure their hats aren't on just right?

Our neighbor says that a woman looks into the mirror to see if her hat isn't on straight.

We'd like to come straight to the point about our gas and air.

When we say it is a mighty fine buy at the present prices, you can depend upon it being just that.

We have batteries, tires, tubes, and some of that fly spray which is loaded with DDT. Drop in to see just what we do have.

Brown the ground meat in drippings, add tomatoes, and the beans, and cook for about five minutes. Pour half the mixture into a large casserole, sprinkle with half the sugar, and cover with the sliced onions, add the remainder of beans and meat. Lay bacon on top, and sprinkle the remainder of sugar over top and bake until brown and well done, from 1 to 1 1/2 hours. This is grand for picnics or hungry men folks.
