Newspapers Have Done A Service

"The newspapers of America, ever since colonial days, have performed outstanding service to freedom by the publication of news without fear or favor. Today, in 1947, it is an accepted truth with all who have enjoyed the priveleges of citizenship in America, that freedom of the press is an indispensable and necessary support to democracy and to a free people.

"In some parts of the world, however, this fact is disputed, and only lip service is given to the ideal of a free press as a servant of the people.

"Lasting peace among the nations of the world will become possible only through a sound, alert and informed world opinion based on a mutual regard and understanding. A free world press is a necessary collary to this ideal.

"These facts are being brought to our attention once again this year through the observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1 to 8, the theme of which is "YOUR NEWSPAPER—Serving Freedom by serving You".

"Because of the impotence of newspapers, and their service, I am glad to designate this period as National Newspaper Week in Oregon.
