

Stefani To Community Drive Here

Thanks and Organiza- Asked To Aid Local Solicitation

Stefani, local barber, has headed the local Community Chest campaign, filling it caused by the resignation of Agda Bickner.

Mather, county chairman in this area a few appealed to the Rotary help him in finding a chairman, to which post, they agreed to carry out. The list of contributions before the campaign got under way here, from the Community church.

Stefani told the Pilot he was going to enlist the aid of all local organizations as much as possible, and was asking the different grades of the school to aid in the house-to-house canvass especially in the outlying areas.

Mr. Stefani will call on local firms himself.

The Community Chest funds will be distributed to 17 different aid groups in Oregon, including Boy and Girl Scouts. Last year the local troop received $25.00 from the Curry county fund. A large portion may be expected if the community contribution is liberally subscribed.

Victor Anderson Is Better And Leaving Hospital

Friends of Victor Anderson Jr. will be pleased to know that he is getting well and expects to leave the 28th Station hospital in Osaka, Japan, in about a week or so, his mother told the Pilot, Tuesday.

No bad after-effects are expected from his attack of polio and meningitis. He is more fortunate than many, inasmuch as his case was arrested in time.

One of the iron lung patients was flown back to the states, en route to Walter Reid hospital, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Anderson said, in commenting on the news from her son.

Storm Stops Work In This Vicinity

With over five inches of rain falling in the past week, and the Tuesday night storm adding to the moisture depth, outside work in this area was almost completely halted yesterday.

Any number of lily growers, in "beefing" to the Pilot, were irked because their work of either digging or planting was halted and forecasts were not too encouraging for early resumption of this labor.

Power was off in a few portions of the area, early Wednesday, causing the occupants of the Central building some delay in getting the day's work under way.

Order of The Arrow Was Conferred On Local Boy

An honor, granted but few Boy Scouts was conferred upon Bob Garrard, last Saturday, when he received the Order of the Arrow, which dates back to early Indian days of America.

To become eligible, a scout must have at least 15 nights of camping, must be a first class scout, and must be elected by his troop to receive this honor.

Bob was elected about a month ago by Troop 32, one of four boys running for the honor.

Being secret in nature, the only thing about scouting which is not free to the public, this honor is to scout something similar as the Shrine is to Masonry.

Twelve candidates were taken into the order last Saturday.
