ention is called to the observance of American Education which is to be observed

United States from November 9 to 15. The Theme of the week throughout is "The Schools are". The national organization sponsoring the observance American Education Week The National Education Association, The American Legion, The U. S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Quoting from the bulletin sent by the State Parent Teachers Organization:

"The Schools are Yours in a literal sense. The schools in your community will be just as good as you make them."

In cooperation with the general plan as outlined by the national committee, the Brookings School is devoting the afternoon of November 13 as Open House. The public is invited to visit the schools on that afternoon (or at any other time). Take that opportunity to see what our new building "looks like inside."

FIRST GRADE

Ten boys and girls from the the fourth grade came to our Hallowe'en party. They planned our games for us. We had a good time. Bobby Allsop won first prize for pinning the tail on the cat. He also won in hide the thimble. Ona Isenhart won first in "Pumpkin without a face."

John Agnew was ill Monday, Marjorie Fitzhugh told us the story of Hansel and Gretel on Tuesday.

SECOND GRADE

We invited the First Grade to see our zoo. We showed them our animals and read our stories. Then we heard a record about the zoo.

Some of us have an insect and bird pasted in our science notebooks.

The fourth grade wrote us some letters.

Tuesday we started to make Weight charts. We will weigh ourselves each month.

Mrs. Goldizen visited us on Tuesday afternoon.

THIRD GRADE

Roy Calloway fell in a mud puddle twice. He had to go home twice to change his clothes.

We had a Hallowe'en party Friday. Some fourth grade children helped us with our games. One boy brought in a tub and apples. Many of us bobbed for apples. Our room mother, Mrs. Ginther helped with our party. Tommy, Victor, Earl, Bobby Chapman and Phillip won prizes.

Each of us plan to go to the library soon.

FOURTH GRADE

Loretta Waldien was absent Monday. Joy Gott and Janet Crump were absent part of last week. We have a new map border of North America.

Part of the fourth grade went to the first grade room and helped with the games for the Hallowe'en party, Friday. The rest did same in the second and third grade rooms. We enjoyed it very much.
