

Bruins Take Three From Langlois, Fri.

Playing the poorest they have seen this season, in way of basketball, the Brookings Bruins had to exert a little extra last Friday night to vanquish the Langlois visitors, 38 to 33 in what was a close game all the way, with the visitors leading much of the time in the first half.

Paced by Felipe, who gathered most points, the Bruins leaped out front early in the game, 7 to 0, which advantage they held but for a short time until the visitors tied the score tied. Just as the Bruins sounded the first quarter, Brookings tied the score at 14-14. However, the second quarter saw the visitors playing rings around the Bruins, until late in the second period, when the club managed to pull within a point of tying, 21 to 20.

The second half was as bitingly contested as the first with Langlois giving nothing in way of ground except by difficult and close checking. Brookings jumped the lead soon after the half ended and were never headed once, 27 to 26. The quarter ended with the Bruins leading 31 to 31.

By ball-control, the Bruins did permit the visitors to score a field goal in the last quarter, and through effective stall-work pulled the visitors away to a two quick baskets and a 30-27 margin.

B Squads Wins Handily

The first team of 1948-49 made another bid for glory in easily defeating their visitors, 34 to 13 in which the Baby Bruins held the upper hand all the way: 11 to 6 at the quarter, 14 to 8 at the half; 21 to 13 at the third quarter and 34 to 13 at the end.

Paced by Jack Johnson who polled himself a dozen points, it was no trouble for his team mates to help themselves to a few points likewise. Box score:

Volleyball Gals Add Another

With no more trouble than they wanted to happen to them, the volleyball girls added another pelt to the bunch, which sewed together make a bunting called a county championship, by massacring the visitors 59 to 12 in a game which was almost devoid of thrills from the fans' point of view. Langlois had not a chance, was behind 30 to 5 at the half, and with all the loose playing on the part of the local girls, were behind 59 to 12 at the end of the game. Patty Braun led the scoring with 17 consecutive points.

Homemakers Column

By Aldene N. Roberts, HDA

Hello There:
Thirty-two women enrolled for the two cotton dress workshops which will be held in Curry County early in February; one in Gold Beach and the other at Sixes. The preliminary meetings were held last week at which the women enrolled, in pairs. Each couple will make a dress for one of the women at the workshop and for the other later.

At the preliminary meetings there was a discussion of the selection of materials and of patterns for different types of figures and personalities; after which each woman took her partner's measurements to decide the size pattern needed and the alterations which would be needed on the pattern.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent looking at patterns and materials from Meier & Frank's in Portland, Weleck's in St. Louis, and Montgomery Wards. Several women ordered their materials from Weleck's in St. Louis.

This week at the regular extension unit meeting we will be working with sewing machines, cleaning, oiling and adjusting them for easier and more satisfactory sewing.

Did you know that the Oregon Home Extension Units have a Homemaker's creed? It's a very good one I think and would like to give it to you here:

OREGON STATE HOME-MAKER'S CREED
Let us seek contentment and joy in living
Let us get rid of false estimates. Let us set up high ideals.—
first love our Master and know his will.
Let us have a comfortable home and a happy family relationship with a strong devotion to the right that will not swerve.
Let us have a simple religion, empty of bigotry, and full of tolerance.
Let us have good friends worthy of being loved.
Let us develop a good neighbor community contact.
Let us have books full of inspiration.
Let us have beauty of our own making.
Let us have innocent pleasures that bring no one pain or remorse.
Let us be homemakers that love growing knowledge and development.
Let this be our philosophy—which our Home Extension Unit impels and promotes.
For in this greatness lies.
Lucy Lane, clothing specialist at Oregon State College suggests that knitwear deserves greater use in children's readymade clothing. Miss Lane states that knitwear has many advantages over woven fabrics in children's garments. Its elasticity makes it fit closely yet allows for plenty of freedom of action without bulk. Its insulating properties offer extra warmth in winter, yet because it is porous, cotton knitwear is comfortable also for summer wear. It is easy to wash and requires no ironing—a boon to mothers. Because many kinds of knit fabrics are less expensive to manufacture than woven fabric, their used should reduce the cost of children's garments.

Knitwear has improved in durability in recent years since run-proof knits have been developed. No longer do small breaks or tears lead to runs—and the mending basket.

Mothers have long been familiar with certain kinds of knitwear, such as knitwear underwear for children, and the cotton T-shirts which have become almost standard wear for small boys and girls as well.

Miss Lane suggests that knitwear also is suitable for infants wear, rompers, night clothes, small boys' suits, helmets, toboggans, baby hoods and mittens. In her research on practical snowsuits, Miss Lane found wool jersey excellent to wear inside showerproof cotton outfits on cold days. Many readymade suits are difficult to clean at home because the linings are sewed in. A separate jersey lining makes it possible to wash both parts separately as needed, and simplifies dressing to suit the weather.

Every Tuesday noon, Rotary club, at Vincen's Restaurant. All visiting Rotarians are welcome.
