Extension Units Set February Meetings

It's time again for the regular Home Extension Unit meetings. The demonstration this month is "Making house plans to fit your family". Mrs. Margaret Tuller, housing specialist from Oregon State College will give the demonstration to the Gold Beach unit. The schedule of meetings is as follows:

Unit	Date	Time
Gold Beach	Feb. 17	11 a.m.
Chetco	18	11 a.m.
Sixes	20	11 a.m.
Port Orford	25	1 p.m.
Ophir	27	11 a.m.

Every homemaker is invited to attend the meeting in her community.

Coming Events: March 1-7 is National 4-H club week. The theme this year is "Creating better homes today for a more responsible citizenship tomorrow". This week will be observed throughout the United States with special programs, posters and news articles about 4-H club work. Watch for announcements of activities.

Upholstery will be taught at the Foot Stool workshop scheduled for the last week of March. Any one interested in learning to repair or remake upholstered furniture can get details of the project at the Extension office.

New Scout Troops In North Curry

According to a statement made by Ray Gardner, member of the Oregon State Police, and Scout commissioner for the Curry county unit, organization of troops is well along at both Port Orford and Gold Beach, where for a time, the movement lacked skilled leadership.

"I am enthusiastic over the prospects, especially at Port Orford, where Fred Steck, local manager of the Coos-Curry Electric Co-op, has taken charge. His son is an eagle scout, and the two should revive the movement if such can be done. At Gold Beach, Joe Baxter, also employed by the same firm, is taking the lead.

"I predict that Brookings will have competition in scouting, and with this competition applied on a county-wide basis, scouting will assume a better place all over the county.

"Brookings has the best troop in the county, there's no doubting that. However, in a few months time Brookings must work to hold such an honor. A county camporee will be held in May in the Brookings area. Here it will be decided which troop is best, by competition."

Local people interested in the scouts welcome this news from the northern part of the county and feel that competition will make the local scouts even better because of the desire to be best—by scout test.

Hi-Lines Printed And Ready For The Mails

"Hi-Lines", monthly publication for the Coos-Curry Electric Co-operative, has been printed by the Pilot, and is in the process of being stamped for mailing.

This issue, dated for January, was delayed when high waters caused a lot of work in the upper regions of the concern's operations.

Local News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Turley expect to leave late this week for extended trip which will take them to many points in the mid-west, calling on customers of theirs who purchased lily bulbs last year. They expect to be gone until early in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harroun and daughter, Mrs. Darlene Williams of Klamath Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harroun and Mr. and Mrs. Don Harroun the first of the week. They returned to Klamath Falls yesterday.

Because of the meeting in the interest of Charlie Grayshel's candidacy for representative last night, the Community club committee postponed its meeting a week.
