We saw the third grade science exhibits.

Marjorie has been absent. This is the first time since the beginning of school.

We are practising a folk dance in our room.

On Tuesday we wrote letters to the American Legion and the Auxiliary to thank them for the money they gave us for play equipment.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

We are making collections of sea shells. We have two abalone shells, two sand dollars, one perfect sea urchin shell. We have limpet and snail shells. We had some live purple rock crabs, hermit crabs and starfish. We studied them under a magnifying glass. We are making pictures of sea animals.

We are planning a trip to the beach as soon as each of us can do one hundred addition facts in ten minutes. Eighteen of us have passed the test.

We are working on murals. One is called Transportation; the other is called "Busy Street."

The spelling match winners were Dianne Ginther and Ralph Carr.

We wrote thank you letters to the Legion and Auxiliary.

We have a citizenship club. We made posters and speeches for the candidates. We voted for a president but Stanley and Vanda tied so we shall vote again.

Last week we saw a picture show, "The Man Who Missed Breakfast." It was about eating good food. One afternoon the second grade invited us to hear them read. They read nicely.

The fifth grade let us see their Eskimo table and pictures. The children told about the different things they had made and how the Eskimo used them. We surely enjoyed it.

We had two visitors: Mrs. Dotson's mother came Friday and Mrs. Kinion came Monday.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

We wrote stories of how coffee beans grow, in geography. We drew a colored picture of a coffee tree to illustrate the story.

We are having contests of manners between two rows.

Mrs. Mathews read us a book, called "Abraham Lincoln." We enjoyed it very much.

Lois Lockhart brought a picture of a llama. Her sister took it at a zoo.

In arithmetic we are having a weekly honor roll. Ones getting their names on it each day of the week are winners.

In reading we are studying about the great men and presidents.

In language we are making oral reports of many things.

In geography we are studying about soil conservation and ways to save land from being washed and blown away.

Dixie Allsup and Joanne Darger were out of school Monday. Joanne came back Tuesday.

We sent our state library books to Salem Wednesday.

We are taking the bon ami off our windows now that we have shades.

In science we are studying about the human body and how it works.

Dickie Berger put a daffodil in some blue ink—it made the flower green.

We made cats out of pussy willows in art.

Gael Ettinger, Kenneth Fielder, Clifford Guthrie, Virginia Akers, Barbara Gould, Lois LaClair and Lois Lockhart are the winners of large gold stars in manners the past week.

We are having a new jumping rope to play with. — Virginia Akers and Barbara Gould, reporters.

Harbor Community Club Met Friday Afternoon

February meeting of the Harbor Community club was held at the Grange hall, Friday afternoon, presided over by Mrs. May Simpson.

Mrs. Helen Hanscam resigned as chairman of the library board, and a new chairman will be appointed at the next meeting.

Plans for a May Day tea, to raise funds for the library, were discussed. In less than a year that the library has been open, it has made a place for itself in this area.

It was decided to help the funds of the club by having a travelling basket circulate among all the members. When a member receives this basket containing a gift, she will take out the gift, decide what amount of money she thinks it is worth, and place this amount in the basket and put another gift into the basket, before passing it on to another member.

Verna Asche and May Simpson conducted the recreation hour with a parody on the radio program "What is the name of that song?" with Hulda Gardner being judged as best warbler of the song she chose.

Refreshments were served at attractively decorated tables in the dining room by the hostesses: Marian Hanscam, Helen Hanscam, and Ruth Woodruff. While at the table "Happy Birthday" was sung for Ruth Woodruff, whose birthday was that day.

Past Noble Grands Honored By Rebekahs

The regular meeting of Topaz Rebekah lodge was held at the Odd Fellows hall last Tuesday evening. Ruth Bathiany of Bee Hive Rebekah lodge, No. 70, of Walla Walla, Wash., was a visitor.

After the business meeting, a program in honor of all the Past Noble Grands of the lodge was held. Each Past Noble Grand was introduced from the center of the floor, giving the dates she acted as Noble Grand, and presented a camellia corsage. A song by Rita Tierce, accompanied by Marie Hoar, and a poem by Adelia Hassett were then given. The Past Noble Grands who were present were Gladys Kindel, Ida Hubbell, Faye Stanhurst, Manilla Hassett, Iris Kindel, Mae Dixon, Hulda Gardner, Bertha Whirry, Ethel Olsen, Gertrude Cole, Mercedes Phillips, Beth Simons and Ruth Bathiany.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the committee at beautifully decorated tables.
