

Struebing Return From California

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Struebing visited Mr. and Mrs. Archer Dorman at their new home in Bay-side, Calif., over the week-end. Mrs. Dorman is the former Mrs. Amadon who lived in Harbor for about ten years.

While in Harbor, Mrs. Dorman started collecting calt and pepper shakers as a hobby. She now has over 3,000 different sets from all parts of the world, which are attractively displayed in their dining room, in cupboards with glass doors which reach from the floor to the ceiling and cover over half of the dining room wall space. She is a member of the national hobby club and has just received a set from one of the members in Paris, France.

On the way home the Struebing stopped for dinner at Orick and by strange coincidence met Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olson, who one of Mrs. Dorman's sons. Oscar formerly attended the Brookings high school. He is now a tree faller working near Orick.

In The Mail-box:

Editor, Pilot:

Last week Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said "Every talented baseball player in the United States should have an opportunity to prove his ability to play professional baseball if he so desires."

Mr. Rickey and the Brooklyn Dodgers in cooperation with Argosy magazine now offer one of the greatest opportunities to such baseball players. A nation-wide rookie hunt is under way, the details of which appear in the April, May, June and July issues of Argosy and are attached here for your information.

In communities throughout the nation there is probably no one more capable of judging the caliber of high school, college and semi-pro ball players than local sports editors and sports writers who have seen them in action time after time. Indeed, sports writers frequently become intensely interested in a ball player and help him on the road to success as a professional player.

The Argosy-Dodger rookie hunt should be of vital interest in your town. You can help them by calling their attention to this great opportunity. We hope that you will specifically encourage any player with exceptional ability to send in an application or that, if necessary, you will enter an application for him.

At the end of the contest, Argosy plans to do an article about the players who were selected for a special tryout. It seems only logical that a background story on each player can best be written by a local sports writer. We hope that a player in your town is one of the winners and, if so, that you will be willing to sell us a piece about him.

We will be interested in seeing any stories you may have done or may do in the future about local players whom you consider big-league material.

Cordially,
Harry Steeger, Editor.
