

Postponed Play Drew Crowds

The long awaited senior play, Hobgoblin House, was held at 8:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 28, at the high school gym. Considering the postponement, the play was well attended.

No doubt you've seen plays that fairly made your flesh creep. This was one that tops them all—a play that sent ice-cold shivers down the spine and wade every hair stand on end. But for every thrill there was a hearty laugh. Miss Priscilla Carter was peeved because her two nieces had fallen in love with two "silly nincompoops."

She purchased the grim old Hobgoblin House in the foothills of the Ozarks and here in the seclusion of the mountains planned a safe retreat where the girls could not see their lovers for at least six months on penalty of being disinherited.

And What a mess they got into with ghosts and ghostly doings everywhere!!! Just as luck would have it they arrived on the very night that bluebeard Bronson, who had once committed a murder in the house, was supposed to revisit the scene of his crimes. And did he come? Well at any rate there were some strange happenings on this night of nights.

The play was well enacted and showed that there is definitely dramatic talent in the local area.

The play was postponed from April 23 to the 28th because of the quarantine.

The Golden Text is, "Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate. The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate" (Ps. 34:21,22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath" (Prov. 15:24), together with the following, correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Hell. Mortal belief; error; lust; remorse; hatred; revenge; sin; sickness; death; suffering and self-destruction; self-imposed agony; effects of sin; that which worketh abomination or maketh a lie" (p. 588).
