

NEWS ALONG THE "LILY TRAIL"

The Azalea Garden Club

The Azalea Garden club will meet the second Thursday of the month, Aug. 12, as usual, but the meeting will be in the form of a pot luck picnic, followed by a brief business meeting at Azalea park in Brookings.

The time has been set for 1 o'clock, on account of the picnic lunch. Ice cream will be served by the club, coffee will be served by the hostesses of the day. Each member should bring her own table service.

Immediately after the business session, the new president, Mrs. Guy Rice, vice-president, Mrs. Bob Perkins, secretary, Mrs. Fleming Waters, and chairmen of the different committees will welcome, and not only welcome but seek, suggestions from the remainder of the membership as to ways and means of making this an outstanding year in the club's history. The day will end with a visit to some of the outstanding gardens of the district.

The Cane of the Wayward Tap Root—

The club has been requested to send a young myrtlewood tree to one of our affiliated clubs for the purpose of illustrating a lecture and later re-planting. This difficult assignment has been given to our past president, Mrs. Dorothy Lockland.

Because of its meandering tap-root even a small myrtlewood tree is hard to get out of the ground in toto. So—if you see our Dorothy and her cohorts, complete with pick and shovel, walking along the highways and byways with eyes modestly cast down don't blame them if they fail to greet you nor be suspicious of a forage on your cabbages—they seek only a minute myrtlewood whose taproot has obligingly remained within our own county borders, and not one already climbing Pikes Peak in Colorado.

Hiya Desert, the old Man of the Mountain tells me:

"Now that the blooms are fading on the Rambler roses, it is time to prune. Rambler rose be tackled as soon as possible after flowering and every year, since their growth is so heavy.

It is simple to cut out close to the ground all canes that have flowered this year. Training and tying new canes should start immediately. And "apply a 3-purpose spray to roses every ten days."

A nice thought down Memory Lane for Brookings, by the sea—
"Dost thou remember yet,
When the curved moon, then lingering in the west, paused in yon waves her mighty horns to meet."

Lynn Hampton, secretary, and Roy Weideman, president, of the Brookings Rotary club, returned Sunday from Longview, Wash., where they had attended the summer conference of Dist. 102, Rotary International. Mr. Hampton stopped at Tigard en route home to visit his parents.

Freddie Stempel, of Montesano, Wash., arrived last week to spend a month's vacation with his mother, Mrs. Deb Frazier.

Cave Junction Is Outhit, But Wins

Brookings journeyed to Cave Junction, Sunday, and lost a real slugfest to the host team. Although outhit, the Junction boys managed to eke runs out in big quantity in the sixth, too much for the locals to overcome.

The Sox enjoyed a 6 to 4 lead going into the last of the sixth when Cave Junction boys ruined the game by annexing nine runs. However, Brookings came back with four in the seventh and three in the eighth, just short of a win, 16 to 13.

Floyd Swearingen started on the mound for the Sox but gave way to Paul Maris in the sixth. It plainly was not Paul's day and Swearingen again took the hill in the seventh, pitching good ball the remainder of the way, proving that he probably could have won if left on the hill.

Art Benson had slugging honors for the locals with two doubles and three singles in six trips to the plate. Swearingen came up with three hits and Griffith, Moon and Haggerty had two each. The short score:

Brookings 220 020 430—16 18 6
Cave Jct. 202 009 30x—16 16 5
Batteries: Swearingen, Maris (6), Swearingen (7) and Moon; For Cave Junction, Smith and Pagni.

H. S. All-Stars Will Play Shrine Game

PORTLAND, Aug. 3.—In less than two weeks the 33 outstanding graduating seniors who make up the roster of the Oregon All-Stars will assemble in Portland for two weeks of practice prior to their clash with the Portland All-Stars at Multnomah stadium Saturday night, Aug. 28.

The football clash is the first annual Shriners' hospital game with all proceeds to go to the Portland unit of the Shriners' hospital for crippled children.

Coach Dick Sutherland of the state squad will greet his grid-ders at a luncheon at the Portland hotel, Sunday, Aug. 15. The players will make their headquarters there during the Portland visit. The Oregon team will practice at Commerce high, with sessions twice a day the first week and once daily the second week.

Sutherland, who led The Dalles to a state championship last fall, will be assisted by Ed Ryan of Klamath, Pete Susick of Coos Bay and Don Mabec of LaGrande.

Rotary and Lions To Enjoy Picnic

As a feature of service club activities, especially when it is applied in inter-club relations, is the order of the day, next Tuesday evening, when Brookings Rotary club will be guests of the Crescent City Lions club, at a lodge on the Hiouchi.

A pot luck affair, this picnic will be in under the program chairman of the Crescent City club. About a dozen local Rotarians have said they would attend, others expressed willingness if possible to do so.

Mrs. Henry Kerr was hostess last Thursday afternoon at a stork shower, given in honor of Mrs. Glen Blankenship, at the Kerr home. About 20 ladies were present to enjoy the afternoon. Mrs. Blankenship received many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. A. J. Kercher, who spent several weeks here caring for her mother, Mrs. Nellie Rodehaver, during her recent illness, has returned to her home at Berkeley. Her mother was well enough to accompany her there for a visit.

Miss Betty Bolin and her room mate, Miss Betty Wruck, returned to Glendale last week after enjoying a month's vacation here with Miss Bolin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bolin. The two young women are in their senior year at the Glendale Sanitarium training for nurses, and will be graduated the latter part of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. DeMartin and family returned the latter part of the week from an extended trip to the eastern part of the United States.

Mrs. Lynn Hampton, accompanied by her two nieces, arrived home last week from Salem and Corvallis where she had visited as well as attended the summer school. Her daughter is visiting at Nampa, Idaho for a while.

Crushed rock has been spread on several Brookings streets, to add much to their usefulness.

James Complains About Torrid Portland "Air"

These air-conditioned people who live along the Pacific slope suffer "untold" miseries every time they go into the valley, especially during the summer months. Howard James, member of the school board, who attended to school matters in Salem and Portland last weekend, has nothing good to either place.

"I suffered terribly—clothes were wet from perspiration—I couldn't seem to get comfortable anywhere. How in name of gosh can anyone place those "God-forsaken" places."

Lynn Hampton, who was James, was non-committal—he did smile and say he was to be here instead.
