Need For Common Carrier For This Section Of State Pointed Out At Tuesday's Hearing

Hearing, by George H. Flagg, utilities commissioner, on application of Thor V. Ask, for permit as a common carrier, held here Tuesday morning. In the absence of Mr. Flagg, the hearing was in charge of Malson Jones, of Salem, an examiner of the utilities commissioner.

Mr. Ask already has obtained a permit from the Interstate Commerce Commission, for hauling by truck and the Tuesday hearing was the supplementary hearing required by Oregon law. The necessity for additional trucking service into Brookings and Harbor area was set forth by Mr. Ask, and was made a record by the examiners.

Local citizens testifying in support of the Ask application were: Henry Kerr, Archie Hendricks, M. S. Brainard, Homer Kessler, Dewey Akers, Fred Moore, Warren Smith.

H. J. Fehely and John Manary, of Klamath, Calif., also supported Ask in his application for a trucking permit.

Fehely is a director of the Golden Gate Bridge Corporation, and Manary is a prominent business man from Klamath.

Testimony at the hearing gave consensus of all who were present that the future prosperity of this area depends greatly upon additional and better transportation facilities into and out of this community.

At the Rotary luncheon where he was a guest, Mr. Jones stated that it had been eight years since he had gone through this area, and that he certainly was surprised at the growth, viewed from the road.

While non-committal, the examiner assured interested people that he was carrying back a "good" report to the commissioner, and would recommend a granting of the permit.

OREGON CHEST DRIVE SET LOCALLY TO BEGIN SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30

H. C. Johnson, Field Representative For State Chest, Give Data Concerning Use Of Funds

Oregon Chest, that agency doing much for children and youth throughout the state, was explained, Tuesday noon, at Rotary luncheon by H. C. Johnson, field representative for the organization, who also spoke at the high immediately following luncheon.

Child caring agencies of the state, Mr. Johnson pointed out, received 30% of their funds directly from taxation, 28% from relatives and other sources; and must rely upon solicitation for the remaining 42%, which this year is just short of $500,000.

In telling of the work being done by these agencies, Mr. Johnson told of the different ones receiving a portion of the funds: White Shield Home, which cares for pregnant girls, and is under direction of the Salvation Army; St. Marys Home, a Catholic institution which cares for delinquent boys, who could also be sentenced to the state industrial school; Waverly home, and a few others which cared, last year for over 3000 boys and girls in the state.

Locally, Mr. Johnson named Dewey Akers as area chairman, to co-ordinate the southern end of Curry county. Field workers will be enlisted through the various organizations of the community and through the school children. The quota for this area, south of Carpenterville, which includes money for Boy Scouts of Curry county district, is $560.

The over-all quota for the entire county, including the scout fund is $1400.

Solicitors who care to work a certain area, or vicinity, may obtain receipts, lapel buttons, etc. by calling at the Pilot office. It is hoped that several in the Harbor area, as well as a number in Brookings may come forward to assist in the movement. School children are asked to be solicitors in the outlying area.

Representatives of the State Public Utilities Commission, in the area to hear the application of Thor Ask for permission to operate a common carrier trucking concern, were guests of the club.

H. S. Houston, president of the Crawford, Nebr., Rotary club, visiting his mother at Castle Rock, was also a guest, and gave a brief talk, and expressed happiness in being able to meet the local members.

Mr. George, of Hubbard, Ore., former resident of this area, visiting the Leo Lucas family, also was a guest, Tuesday.

He told the club that he was amazed at the progress made in the area since he left here a number of years ago.

Henry Kerr, local lumberman, became a member of the club, Tuesday.
