Mrs. Ben McKernan, and some of their property last winter, and who since traveled over much of Oregon and California, are back in the community, this time to stay, and build on their remaining property.

statement to the Pilot on Monday, Mr. McKernan asserted that he had not crossed another community half as well.

your cities for instance, they are over populated and offer little for the persons seeking a home and livelihood. It is true almost every place

I visited. Brookings has never begun to expand, and I believe it little realizes what future is holding for it."

Mr. McKernan, who has for over 25 years, made his living selling tailoring, will carry on the same work here.

Clauson Cleared In Justice Court Case Here Friday

E. A. Clahson, who was accused of breaking down gates on Cape Farrello road and arrested of complaint by R. E. Simmons, was freed from all blame last Friday at Justice of the Peace A. E. Sandbo's court.

Accusing Clauson of not having right to haul logs over the road in question, Mr. Simmons had gates put up. Clauson drove through them, for which he was arrested. Clauson, in court, said he had a permit, which came with the timber he purchased and was logging. This permit, he asserted was a matter of record at Gold Beach.

The case was dismissed by Mr. Sandbo.

lipstick. Sights can be described in no other way than technicolor films.

Climaxing the day, a party at the high school topped off the initiation of the lowly frosh, who may now consider themselves to be members of that great student-body.

It will take some time to erase the lipstick marks from clothing.

Storm, Monday, 'Blacks Out' Area For Several Hours

The high winds which accompanied the rains Monday, kept trees topplings in every exposed spot, and with this the destruction of power lines all the way between here and Grants Pass.

After flickering most of the forenoon, power went off for sure shortly after 11 a. m. and was not restored until almost five in the afternoon.

Businesses dependent wholly on electricity, were practically closed down, including the bakery, Pilot office, machine shop, and restaurants not having butane heat.

New Optometrist Joins Eureka Firm

Dr. Madsen, a native Humboldt resident, who attended schools in that county, and also at Humboldt State, has become associated with May & McCreery, optometrists, Eureka, it was announced this week.

Interrupted during the war, Dr. Madsen returned to his studies after five years in the navy. He completed his optometry education at University of California. He is married and has two children, the announcement stated.

Frosh Initiation A "Colorful" Affair

Resumption of the "frosh initiation," left undone during the past few years, was seen last Friday when the ninth graders went along the street, dressed in absurd costumes. Boys wore feminine slips, and stockings, and girls were clad in levis, turned backward, with burlap shirts.

Upon arrival at the school, the upperclassmen thought the frosh to lack lustre, so proceeded to decorate them generously with

Bert Cleveland Visits Brookings

Bert Cleveland, former local manager for Coos-Curry Electric Co-op., was a brief visitor in the area, Thursday, en route to Bellflower, Calif., after a visit at Coquille.

Called north by the serious injury of his father, who was kicked while shoeing a horse, Bert told the Pilot that his father sustained a broken knee-cap, and compound fracture of the right hand. He is at a Coquille hospital at present.

Mr. Cleveland is working for Edison Electric Co., in the Los Angeles area.

Smith River Club To Hear R. Crawford

SMITH RIVER—The Woman's club will hear Ruth Crawford, Humboldt and Del Norte counties' home demonstration agent, Friday, Nov. 5, at the regular meeting of the club.

Set for 2:30 p. m. at the Community hall, a music program will be enjoyed in addition to the talk by Miss Crawford. Tea will be served.

The entire membership is asked to come, and visitors are welcomed, according to Mrs. Eunice Faris, president.
