DEATH CLAIMS CAREER OF REV. DELBERT LOREE

Supply Pastor Brookings During Summer Months of '47

It was learned, through the pages of the "Western World," published at Bandon, that local residents heard of the death of Delbert Loree, who, during the summer months of 1947, was supply pastor of the Baptist Community Church, here. The article said this to say:

Delbert Loree, of Ashland, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Bandon for several years, died at his home October 10 following is an obituary taken from Ashland Daily Tidings: Delbert Loree, 73, who died at his home on Monday, Oct. 18, at 2 p. m. Rev. O. C. Smith, pastor of the Oregon Baptist convention, officiated with interment at Mount View cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Loree was born in Michigan on Feb. 4, 1875, and was a resident of Ashland 15 years. He came to Oregon 10 years ago, having been a member of the Baptist church since 18 years of age. He was pastor at Riddle, Ore., and has pastored in many Oregon churches.

In 1921 he married Cecile Kimball of Freewater. For six years Loree was a Colporteur missionary in Central Oregon and returned to Ashland in 1942 to resume his love of the ministry and to accept another pastorate at Merlin, Ore., shortly after a year ago. He conducted services there Sunday before his surviving are his widow, Cecile, three sons, Paul of Bend, Ore., of Vancouver, Wash., and Melvin of Chicago; three daughters, Jean Carder of Ashland, Mrs. Loretta Erwin of San Francisco and Mrs. Dorothy Bird of Bridgeport, Conn.; two grandsons, Melvin of Cove, Ore., and Emmett of Lebanon; and eight grandchildren and one grandchild.

Corporation Seems To Be In Disfavor Here

Incorporation for Brookings, Oregon, from a "hit-and-miss" basis, as seen by the Pilot, seems to be something to take up in the most in the opposition to the present plan seems to be the local boundaries, which so seem inequitable.

When this paper was being prepared the voting was in progress, so no indication was given as to a probable reand Mrs. Bob Perkins left for Chicago and other Illinois points to visit the aged parents of Mr. Perkins. They expect to be gone about a month.

Armistice Day Will Be Observed Here By V. F. W. and Legion This Evening

The annual get-together of all veterans to observe Armistice Day, when World War 1 stopped, will be held at the Harbor Grange Hall this evening (Nov. 11) at 8:00 o'clock, when Post 966 V. F. W. and Post 138, American Legion and Auxiliaries, invite all ex-service men and their families.

Arrangements are under direction of V. A. Mendenhall Jr. and Everett Jaggers, who promise all attending a good time.

PORTLANDER WAS HONORED BY A NAT'L SOCIETY

Nephew of Mrs. Goldie Smith Honored By Chemical Society

In Tuesday's Oregonian appeared an article telling of Dr. Linus Pauling, Portland scientist, who has been named president of the American Chemical Society, and who will address the Oregon Chemical Society at the Lewis and Clark chemistry building Friday night.

Dr. Pauling, a nephew of Mrs. Goldie Smith, local postmaster, holds honors in this country and abroad, including the Davy medal of the Royal Society of London, is a full professor of chemistry and chemical engineering at California Institute of Technology, and the author of several books. For services to the United States during the war he was awarded the medal of merit, the highest military honor accorded a civilian.

Dr. Pauling was born at Portland and received his bachelor of science in chemical engineering from Oregon State College in 1922. Three years later he obtained the doctor of philosophy degree at California Institute of Technology, and still later honorary degrees of doctor of science from Oregon State College and University of Chicago.

Toyland Attracts Many To Chetco Home & App. Co.

Youngsters aren't the only people who have been attracted by "Toyland" at the Chetco Home & Appliance Co. store this week. Dads and moms are just as eager to "try out" some of those new gadgets now on display.

Parents have been observed by a Pilot reporter and came up with this solution: The youngster had already been inside, he had seen the new toys, and he was just agog with an idea that his dad might be "interested."

Dad was enticed in—the proprietors had the stock taken off the shelves for a demonstration—and usually a purchase, but so much to replace after the transaction was made. Last week the company carried a four-column advertisement, telling of the attraction.

"National Education" To Be Observed, Tuesday

Members of the panel and their subjects are:

"As a parent what do I expect of the school from a father's viewpoint," Wm. Foltz; mother's viewpoint, Mrs. Foltz

"As a student, what do I expect of the school," Joan Byrne

"As a church what is expected of a school," Rev. Nick Neufeld

"As a school board, what do we expect of a school," Mrs. Gladys Kindel.

"As a teacher, what do I expect of the school," Mrs. Bert De Moss.

Moderator—Lynn Hampton.

There will plenty opportunity for open discussion. Refreshments will be served following the interesting program.

Sea Scout Charter Will Be Presented At Ceremony Soon

Boys enrolled in the local sea scout ship, inactive for the past several months because many of the boys were away at work, is again going in full swing. Elmer Parker, skipper, Bob Williamson and John Cox, mates, are enthusiastic for the future of the group.

Sponsored by the Rotary club which obtained the boat about a year ago, a charter presentation is being planned by the club, to be held at some future date, as plans are completed.

Heading the affair, besides the skipper and his mates, are: Thor Ask, Stan Patterson and Archie Hendricks, committeemen.

Elmer Parker, who recently purchased the Axford property, has promised the ship members the use of a house near the water

Satellite Club Will Meet At Snug Harbor Tonight

Satellite Social club will hold its regular meeting Thursday, Nov. 11 at 8 p. m. at Snug Harbor, the home of Martha Harbin, with Ethel Frazier and Mary Hanks assisting her as hostesses.

All Eastern Star members are cordially invited. Those without transportation are asked to be at Brookings post office at 7:45 p. m. when cars will be available.

High School Will Stage Carnival, Friday Evening

A carnival, at which the different high school youngsters will wear some kind of buttons to prevent them from trying to put the "bite" on each other, has been set for Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the high school gym.

People are warned that this is purely a gouge, that they should bring generous supplies of that filthy lucre called money, to the place, for there is no one so lonely as a person broke at a place and time like this.

What are they going to have to take money away from everyone? Modern youth have ingenious ways of extorting money. Brookings high school students claim they are past-masters.

This affair, annual in nature, is the manner and means the student body has of raising funds to carry on activities of the local high school, not met by tax levy. At least the kids promise a good time while people are being taken "for a ride."

County Hospital Vote Carried All County In Election

GOLD BEACH—Curry County Hospital, Inc., wishes to thank the people of Curry county for their favorable vote on the hospital tax in the general election, Nov. 2.

This vote makes the hospital a certainty, although the incorporation still has $30,000 to raise by contributions. This must be done before application can be made for federal funds.

Five hundred people in the county have given their membership. If each member would get a new member and make his contribution, the hospital can be started in a few months. It's up to everyone to say how soon the county will have its hospital.

A meeting of the incorporation will be held at the youth center of the Episcopal church, Friday, Nov. 12 at 8 p. m. Everyone is urged to attend this meeting to appoint nominating committee for officers for 1949.

There will be reports from the standing committees and plans to correlate activities and raise necessary funds to qualify for a federal grant.

where they may hold their meetings. Repair of the boat will be completed during the winter, to be launched after the winter storms are over.

ROTARY HEARS U. S. F. S. MAN TUESDAY NOON

Hershel Obye, Grants Pass, Explained F. S. Plans and Methods.

Forest service policies, manner of propagation of timber and the methods of handling timber were explained Tuesday noon by Hershel Obye, supervisor of Siskiyou national forest, with headquarters at Grants Pass.

Siskiyou national forest is divided into five sections, with a ranger over each section. It is the aim of the forest service to preserve, market and perpetuate growth of timber. Sale of timber means much to the counties of the district, based upon the acreage in the county.

Last year, of the $225,000 realized from sale of timber, Curry county's share was about $30,000. When decision of the O. & C. lands is finally arrived at there will be another half million to be divided among counties.

In maintenance of the forest service, Mr. Obye told of the 550 miles of road, 600 miles of telephone line, and the unmeasured miles of trails throughout the area.

In telling about the fire-fighting program, Mr. Obye told of the trend toward air patrol and how it worked.

Since the beginning of the war the public has co-operated with the forest service in prevention of fires. It is a matter of record that in the last 8½ years, that it has averaged less than 8 fires a year, with a total acres burned of 358 acres. In the eight years prior to the war, there were 47 man-caused fires, burning almost 11,000 acres. Only six fires occurred during 1948, and they were insignificant ones.

Mr. Obye told something of the conservation of timber resources, not to urge many sawmills to saw away the timber in a few years, then to have a slump in business. He pointed out Josephine county as a perfect example. Some of the 60-odd mills in that area are doomed to close down for want of timber for there remains but about 15 years cutting.

Local Club Invited By Myrtle Point Rotarians

The three Rotary clubs of Coos county, including Coquille, Myrtle Point, and Coos Bay, are staging an annual get-together, Thursday evening, Nov. 18, at Coquille Country Club on the road between Coquille and Myrtle Point. This annual get-together carries a little side play for the club having the smallest percentage of members present must keep a pet skunk for the coming year.

While it will not participate in the custody of the skunk, as many members as possible from the local club who can go, are invited.

Dr. Strand, president of Oregon State College, will be the speaker for the occasion.
