

Local Men Named On Co. A. C. A. Committees

GOLD BEACH — The annual election of Curry County Conservation Association, held last week resulted in the re-election of the same three men on the county committee, including C. J. Doyle, chairman, Cecil P. Watt and Charles Fox.

The three community committees are headed by Walter Hofess, Langlois, Walter Pearmine, Harbor, and Charles Graham, of Gold Beach. The chairmen and vice-chairmen of each community committee also served as delegates to the county convention.

Modification of the county handbook was recommended to emphasize weed control. Farmers at each community meeting voted unanimously in favor of making weed control a "must" practice on all conservation farms in '49. Under this plan, no conservation payment will be made on a farm infested with weeds unless the operator carries out an approved control program which will at least prevent further spread.

In Curry county, community chairmen also serve as compliance supervisors. Following the election in each community, reports of performance were made by participating farmers. It was announced that Jan. 15 is the closing date for applying for payment under the 1948 program. Farmers who have not reported will be required to call at his committeeman's home some evening for making his report. These reports must be filed in the county office before Jan. 15.

Results of the election, these committeemen and officers will serve in 1949:

County committee—C. J. Doyle, Wedderburn, chairman; Cecil P. Watt, Harbor; Charles Fox, of Langlois.

Northern Community—Walter Hofess, Langlois, chairman; C. L. Wagner, Port Orford, vice-chairman; Jasper R. Yoakum, of Langlois, regular member; S. K. Seeber, Langlois, first alternate; Hoyt L. Thompson, Denmark, 2nd alternate.

Central community — Chas. R. Graham, Gold Beach, chairman; Norman Chenoweth, Ophir, vice-chairman; Ray Nowlin, Ophir, first alternate; F. O. Bowman, Gold Beach, second alternate; Robert Lamson, Pistol River, regular member.

Southern community — W. G. Pearmine, Harbor, chairman; G. L. Funk, Brookings, vice-chairman; Charles Warnock, Brookings, first alternate; R. I. Oliver, Harbobr, second alternate; Ray R. White, Brookings, regular member.

State Official Says December Hazards Are The Greatest

SALEM—"Don't let death take your holiday!"

This pre-Christmas warning from Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry is aimed at happier holiday season for Oregonians, with fewer traffic accidents and deaths this year.

"Traffic deaths reach their peak during December and the holiday season," Newbry pointed out. "The month of December, 1946, when 56 persons were killed, was the worst single month we have ever experienced, and last December was not much better."

Newbry said the major factors in the holiday problem are heavier vehicle and pedestrian traffic, seasonal hazards and more widespread drinking. By overcoming the first two with careful driving, and avoiding the last when planning to drive or walk in traffic, Oregonians could reduce holiday tragedies by at least two-thirds, he declared.

"It's the season to be merry — of course. But let's make it the season to be wary, as well," the safety official suggested.
