Rod and Gun Club Doings—

There is still no definite word on the pending negotiations for the property which this organization hopes will become its new home. A telephone call, made to Pete Lesmeister, Monday, however, provided additional reason for belief that a satisfactory consummation of the transaction will be made soon.

The interest and enthusiasm shown by the members in connection with this effort to obtain a club house is greater and more universal than in any other project engaged in by the Chetco Rod & Gun Club. Since the beginning of negotiations not a day has passed that a dozen or more members haven't dropped in at Lesmeister's office to see "how things are going." Such action is typical of this fine club.

Whatever is the interest or project of the club also becomes the personal interest of project of each and every member. No wonder they are recognized as "the organization that gets so many things done."

Fishing Gossip—

On Monday, Feb. 28, brings an end to steelhead fishing for the season. These few remaining days are the last chance for the boys and girls to dunk their favorite lures so let's hope Mother Nature puts aside her rain bucket and gives them a last fling.

Frank Blanchley and some of the other fishermen have been doing very well in the surf lately—which is a reminder to us of our fortunate situation here as compared to many other areas. When the season closes for one type of fishing it is open for another which permits enjoyment the year 'round.

BASKETBALL—

The Ramrods suffered their first defeat last Saturday night at the hands of Pyke's Variety by a score of 53 to 49. It looked like an overtime game up to the last 17 seconds with a 49-49 tie when a field goal and a free toss spelled defeat for our local boys. Those who failed to attend missed one of the hottest games of the season.

The game played Saturday evening was a non-conference tussle and did not affect the Ramrods league standing. They are the only unbeaten team in league play. Probably their toughest test will come tonight (Thursday) when they Pyke's again in a scheduled league game. If Pykes can repeat their performance then it will place the first blemish on the Ramrods league record and fill the Pykes squad with championship hopes which, until then, belonged entirely to the Brookings quintet. Any who enjoy basketball and appreciate what is at stake in tonight's game won't miss this chance to attend what will probably be the most hotly contested game of the season.

Card Party Series To Be Extended In March

The series of eight card parties being given by the Rebekah Social Club at the I. O. O. F. hall on Saturday evenings, will be completed this Saturday, and the prize of a blanket will be awarded the person having the highest total score for the entire series. As everyone attending the parties is in favor of continuing the parties into March, plans are being made to have a few more parties after the series has ended.

At the party last Saturday, the high scores were held by Dorothy Simpson and Fred Gustafson; low by Flora Weber and Bill Wridge; the pinochle prizes were held by Mary Ettinger and John Darger, and Mrs. Ettinger also took home the door prize.

Marjorie Moore Honored On Tenth Birthday, Tues.

Marjorie Moore was surprised Tuesday, after school, with a birthday party at the home of her classmate, Virginia Akers. The Girl Scouts of her group and the leaders, Mrs. Roy Brimm and Mrs. Paul Shrader, were present. Cherry corsages, made by June Fairchild, Joy Gott, Melody Brimm and Virginia Akers, were given each girl as she arrived. These girls later assisted in the serving of refreshments. Twenty girls wished Marjorie many happy return of the day with a shower of gifts. Marjorie was ten.

Another Lemon Is In This Area

In reporting the "lemon" grove of Mrs. Ruth Bathany last week, the Pilot has been informed that it had overlooked another grove, it almost 20 years old, and on the L. G. Stafford place, just about a mile south of Harbor.

According to Mrs. May Stafford, Tuesday, her tree has borne lemons almost all the years since she planted it after it had been given to her by Mr. Fitzhugh.

It still goes, citrus growers should look to this area for place to "dodge" the killing frosts they have in the banana belt of California.
