

Many Dairymen Attend Open House At Smith River

SMITH RIVER — Open house held by the Co-operative Creamery, Sunday, was attended by a large crowd of people, including dairymen from Del Norte and Curry counties.

The visitors were taken on a tour through the plant, which has been extensively remodeled and newly-repainted. A new churn and a new boiler have been installed. At noon hot dogs, buns, ice cream, coffee and buttermilk were served to everyone.

Two reels of movies were given, on calf raising.

Door prize drawings took place at 3 p. m. and 50 prizes were given to dairymen holding the lucky numbers.

The first four prizes were heifer calves being donated by Nis Jepson, Paul Maris, Henry Westbrook and Oliver Bailey. Other prizes were feed and dairy supplies. All attending report having enjoyable time.
