

Brookings Won Pair Of Games During Holiday Week-end

Brookings Pelicans entertained the Lily Blossom Time visitors, Sunday and Monday, with two wins, first from Merlin, whom the Pelicans had beaten twice before this year, and Gold Beach, Monday afternoon. Strangely enough, the scores were almost the same.

With Merlin short two players, Mendenhall and Brunk played for the visitors, Mendenhall behind the plate and Brunk at second.

Brookings got under way in her first inning by chasing over four runs, annexed another in the second, and another in the fourth.

Loose support for Don Ackley in the third let Merlin spike the plate for three, and again in the fourth.

The seventh inning was saved for the fireworks. Merlin added three more, but Brookings blasted the works in her half for seven.

Merlin score twice in the ninth but was too far behind to make much of an impression. The box-score:

With Whitey Matson batting like he were trying out for the major leagues, Monday, Brookings Pelicans took their second week-end game from Gold Beach. 17 to 6. Matson, in six trips to the plate, amassed six hits and six runs, which were made up of two singles, two triples, a double and a home run.

Bob Aston, pitching for Gold Beach, and picked as the outstanding prep baseball player in 1948, led Gold Beach hit parade, with three hits in four trips, but his effort availed little due to the weak support given him.

Westbrook, on the other hand, gave up but nine hits to Gold Beach, but his wildness in the third inning was almost his undoing. He hit the first two batsmen to face him, walked the third and hit the fourth. After one of these was nipped trying to steal, he permitted the first score on a wild pitch. Two singles by Ken Curry and Jerry Fendrick gave the visitors four runs. Until the eighth, Westbrook was almost miserly with his base knocks at times when they would have been good for runs. His support was sparkling at all times.

Aged Lady Found Dead Sunday At Her Chetco Cabin

Mrs. Mary Farmer, resident of the North Fork of the Chetco for the past twelve or more years, was found dead at her home Sunday by a neighbor R. O. Henderson, who passed by the home en route to fish.

He discovered her lying on the floor as he peered into the window. Immediately he notified R. G. Sabin, who with Dr. A. O. Schmitt, went to the home.

From the condition of the body it was estimate that she had died from either a stroke or from a heart attack June 30, at the latest. She had been living alone the past year or more, since her son left for Los Angeles for medical treatment.

Mrs. Farmer, who was 76 last October, had never complained to friends of being in ill health. She confided in few, however, and on necessity came to town only for provisions, and to try to sell her holdings up the Chetco.

The Pilot was unable to learn anything about her family or of relatives. Burial was held Monday at private services.
