MAGICIAN SHOW BOOKED HERE, FOR NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Raymond and Carole, famous magicians, will appear at the local high school gymnasium, under auspices of Chetco Post, No. 138, American Legion, Friday and Saturday, July 15 and 16. A special matinee for the kiddies will be staged at 2:00 p. m. Saturday.

These magicians come to this area highly recommended as they have appeared in all leading theaters in the west. They carry almost a ton of elaborate stage equipment, scenery and costumes to add to the delight of the eye.

Some of the tricks on the Raymond and Carole program are genuine roses blooming before your very eyes, and are presented to the audience. Another baffling illusion is Aga—the lady who actually floats through the air—and beautiful birds appearing on the stage from nowhere. The fairyland of silks and rabbits that vanish into thin air.

Many of Raymond and Carole's illusions are new with a few old ones included. One of the highlights of the show is the trained dove circus which is said to be worth the admission price.

Were At Crescent City July 3

Staged at Crescent City, Sunday, July 3, this show is reported to be one of the greatest novelty displays yet uncovered. Here is a bit of Herman the Great—a bit of Kellar, the Greater—Here is a touch of Houdini, the marvelous—a big slice of Thurston, the incredible. With the fusing of the greatest jumble of paraphernalia and show properties ever piled together on one stage, is the show coming here.

Special attention is again directed to the matinee for children, Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

Advertisement telling of the event may be seen on page four of this issue.

Gold Beach Will Seek Revenge, Here, Sunday

Gold Beach baseball team will come to Brookings Sunday for a second game against the Pelicans, Pete Lesmeister, business manager, told the Pilot, Tuesday.

Word from the north indicates that Gold Beach will field a strengthened team in an effort to avenge the defeat handed them by the Pelicans on July 4. Probable pitchers will be Ray Gardner for Gold Beach and Hank Westbrook for Brookings.

The game will be played at the high school field, starting at 2:00.

Girls Left Monday For Two Weeks Scout Camp

JoAnn Shrader and Virginia Akers, representing Troop 1 of Girl Scouts from Brookings, left Monday morning for Florence to spend two weeks at Camp Cleawox, Eugene area Scout Camp.

Both look forward to becoming proficient in swimming, as well as other outdoor crafts, such as will be taught at a camp of this kind. They will return home on Monday, July 25.

San Francisco Sheep Market Is Glutted

GOLD BEACH—The San Francisco market will probably have all the lambs it can handle, according to reports brought back by truck drivers. All of the available trucks from Curry county were unloaded Monday morning along with many other California and Oregon trucks.

After filling all of the sheep pens, lambs were soon filling all of the empty hog and cattle pens. This is the first of the Curry crop, to move in volume, reports R. M. Knox, county agent.

Dry weather and short feed is blamed for this flooded condition. The lambs all look about the same—not in too good condition.

Goldie Smith Attends Postmasters Convention

Mrs. Goldie Smith, Brookings post master, left Tuesday for the Oregon post masters convention at Coos Bay. She will return home Friday. Several hundred are expected to be present.

Last Rites Held Saturday For J. G. Goings, Pioneer

Last rites were held Saturday, at 2 p. m., at Baptist Community church, for John Granville Goings, who died Wednesday at his home following illness of several months. Interment was at the local cemetery. Rev. Nick N. Neufeld, pastor of the Baptist Community church had charge of the services both at the church and at the grave.

Born Near Kerby, Oregon

John Granville Goings was near Kerby, Oregon, March 1, 1871. At the age of 17 he went to Crescent City with his parents and went to work at the Hobbs-Wall camp. The remainder of his life was spent in Northern California and Southwest Oregon.

On Nov. 21, 1894, he was united in marriage to Alice Miller, to which union were born nine children, six of whom survive him.

Following his marriage he was engaged in farming, homesteading in 1914, on 40 acres on the Winchuck river. In 1928 the family moved to Harbor and later to Brookings.

Surviving, besides his widow, are six children: Claude, of Palo Alto; Mabel Taggart of Orick; Gladys Stotenburg of North Bend; Mary Carlson of Palermo, Calif.; Earl of Orick; Duyane Matthews of Scotia, Calif.

Brothers and sisters living are: Sara Richardson of Grants Pass who was unable to attend the funeral; Amanda Peacock of Fort Dick; Ida Tabor of Longview, Wash.; and Frank Goings of Garberville. Sixteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also survive.

Friend To Everyone

Grant, as he was commonly referred to by intimates, of which there were many, was a friend to everyone, especially the children. It was no uncommon sight to see him returning from the post office with any number of children walking along with him. These children would accompany him to his home, there to talk more.

Last winter he suffered an illness, which sapped his strength exceedingly. Although he recovered, he couldn't make his usual rounds. A week ago he suffered a heart attack which he had not the strength to combat and survive. These befriended children were first daily to inquire of his well-being.

Benefit Dance Planned For Owen Carter, Sat.

After being postponed on the first occasion to stage a benefit dance for Owen Carter, the second try will be held Saturday evening at the Odd Fellows hall.

Mr. Carter, who was seriously injured in a logging accident a few months ago, is still unable to work, and it may be several months yet before he can. All people connected with the timber industry especially, are urged to attend and contribute as much as they can toward this fund. An advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue.

FALL INTO OCEAN, MONDAY, FATAL FOR GIRL; REVIVAL EFFORTS FAIL

While with a couple of playmates, Monday afternoon, at the old coast guard point, searching for starfish, Hazel Huffman, 12, slipped on a craggy rock and fell into the water. En route she grabbed Judy Main and pulled her in also. Bobby Main, the other companion was able to get his sister out, and when the two had Hazel about out of the water, a wave jerked her loose and the wave action pulled her under.

In desperation, Judy ran to the Brimm Bros. mill for help, while Bobby made other efforts to get hold of the girl being tossed by waves. Before help could be summoned, it is estimated she had been under water almost three-quarters of an hour.

Louie Stoller was among the first on the scene, with a chain and hook. From his position he was unable to reach the girl, now some dozen or more feet below the surface. Raymond Reekman and Herbert Leming, on the opposite side of the gorge in rocks, finally brought her up.

Artificial respiration was begun immediately by L. A. Harvey, Virgil Goldsberry, Norris Kemp, Emil Moore and others as they arrived. Dr. Schmitt, on arrival, gave the girl four shots of medicine, in an effort to revive heart beat. At one time, they heard a few heart beats, but circulation could not

First Aid Classes Will Start Here Next Week

First aid classes, type taught by the Red Cross, will start in this area next week, L. A. Harvey, instructor, told the Pilot on Tuesday.

Those wishing to avail themselves of this course are asked to contact Mr. Harvey personally, or write to him at Box 488, Brookings for membership.

Topaz Rebekahs Install Officers.

The first July meeting of Topaz Rebekah lodge was held Tuesday evening. A six o'clock chicken pie dinner was enjoyed prior to the meeting.

The following officers were installed for the coming six months: Noble Grand—Rita Tierce. Vice-Grand—Dora VonSeidletz. Recording Secretary—Adelia Hassett.

Work was kept up for about three hours, before all hope was abandoned.

It has been said that the girl fell in the water about 3:30, and it was about 4:15 before help arrived. In relays, people worked on revival until about 7:00, before hope was abandoned.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lannie Huffman, and her sister, 8, and brother, 3, were at Klamath that day, arriving home late in the evening. They were seeking employment in the woods, reason for being away at the time. The little girl, it is reported, was left with her grandmother for the day.

The body will be shipped to Centralia, Wash., their old home, for burial, it was reported Tuesday afternoon.

Melvin Asche Re-Breaks Leg; Now In Body Cast

The Elmer Asche family has completed moving to Portland, and have rented their property south of Harbor. In a letter from Mrs. Asche, she reports that her son, Melvin, who suffered a broken leg early in the spring, had the misfortune to re-break his leg, and it was necessary to operate and put in a metal plate to hold the bones together. He is now in a body cast with several more weeks flat on his back facing him. The only bright spot for him is that while in the hospital, he has moved up from the substitute clerk roll in the Portland post office to the position of regular clerk.

Many Visitors Spend 4th At Lockwood's Ranch

While many local people had house guests over the Fourth of July holidays, one of the most visited families was the Harvey Lockwoods on their Winchuck ranch. Recent house guests at their home have been Mrs. Lockwood's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Strueben, their son, E. W. Strueben and his family of Bryte, Calif.; Mrs. Lockwood's brother, E. E. Russell and family of Sacramento; two cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Will Martin and son, Robert of Oakland, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Evelyn White of Del Paso Heights, Calif., and two nephews, Brian and Wayne Russell of Sacramento. The last of the older guests left Tuesday, with Brian and Wayne remaining for a longer visit.

Mills Resume Work Here After Holiday Vacation

After being closed down for the past two weeks, giving employees their annual vacation, all at one time, many of the sawmills of the area resumed work Monday.

Lumber market, especially on the higher grades, advanced in the past week, it has been reported, thus spurring production of lumber.

Lumber men believe that the national housing act, just passed, will add impetus to the industry.
