Area Gets Boost From 'Blooms,' Bus Drivers Tell

Giving away lily blossoms has been profitable to the lily industry, George Funk has learned from Greyhound bus drivers, who told him quite a story.

Wednesday morning, in his interview with the Pilot, Mr. Funk told about returning to Brookings by bus Sunday. He gave his bus ticket to the driver at Portland terminal, and when the driver noted the destination he remarked:

"Brooking! Isn't that the place they give away all the lily blossoms? You should hear the remarks we do of travelers who came through there. They rave about the courtesy, and of the blossoms, many having never had one in their hands before."

Mr. Funk told the Pilot he often wondered just how much good the giving away of blossom really did—he has no doubts in his mind now.

"We made our mistake by not conducting the booths as long as lily blossoms were to be had. Next year I hope we can keep them open at least three weeks if there are any blooms left."

RAID ON RECLAMATION FUNDS REVEALED

$993,307,000
FOR 17 STATES

Library of Congress tabulation shows that total government appropriations for building reclamation projects in the 17 western reclamation states amounted to $993,307,000 during the entire 11 year period from 1939 through 1949.

$738,000,000
FOR ONE STATE

Arizona is making Congressional bid for one irrigation project costing a minimum of $738,000,000 for initial development only. Additional tunnels and dams would raise total project cost to an estimated $1,500,000,000.

Backers of western reclamation development have expressed grave concern over possible fate of numerous state programs if Arizona's request for a huge irrigation project should be granted. They point out that this proposal gives Arizona the lion's share of all available funds. To meet such a threat, a fight is being waged behind the scenes in Congress over Senate Bill 75 and House Resolution 934. These are the controversial bills calling for the largest reclamation appropriation ever made to a single state. The reclamation states involved in this vital matter are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.
