

PELICANS BOW AGAIN, SUNDAY, TO CRESCENT CITY MERCHANTS, 6-2

By their inability to manufacture those coveted run-producing hits at opportune times, Brookings Pelicans bowed a second time to Crescent City Merchants, this time by a 6-2 score at Crescent City, Sunday afternoon. Like the first game, Brookings errors attributed to the Crescent City scoring, and the ultimate margin.

Wally Maciel, on the mound for the Merchants, justified the many remarks heard about his improved pitching this season. While somewhat wild with seven bases on balls, two of which were intentional, Maciel was tight in the pinches, scattering eight Pelican hits, striking out 13 and leaving 16 Pelicans stranded on base.

Dick Salvage pitched almost as equally well for the Pelicans, with only three of the six runs scored being of the earned variety. A hit in the clutch and a tighter defense on the part of his mates could have made him the winner.

The Merchants broke through for a run in the first, added another in the fourth, and then were handed three big unearned tallies in the fifth when a costly error by Don Ackley on a hard hit ground ball would have required the side. To make the victory doubly sure the Merchants scored their final run in the eighth frame.

The Pelicans dented the plate for the first time in the sixth on doubles by Putnam and Matson and their last run in the last frame. Hanscam, as second batter, singled, stole second and scored on Yamor's error at first. The run became earned when Desjardin also hit a single.

Play-off Series Cancelled

The proposed play-off between Glendale and Brookings for the Rogue Valley league pennant, trophy, or whatever the winner receives, has been postponed, all due to the disbanding of the Glendale team. Brookings had previously told the Glendale manager that the Pelicans would be at Glendale next Sunday for the first two of the proposed two-best-out-of-three series.

Glendale was runners-up in the league standings, two games behind the Pelicans, who lost but a single game all the season.

She Was Thrown— 'But Not For A Loss'

For a little youngster, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lucas, is quite a horse-woman.

Sunday, while riding her horse at Gold Beach to assemble for the parade, her mount stumbled, and in gaining its footing, threw Helen to the ground. So quickly did the whole thing happen, the horse had to jump over her, lying on the ground in front.

Instead of being scared as a grown-up could and might have been, Helen arose immediately, was helped upon her horse. The parade went off without further incident.

Calf, Pig Scrambles Attract Youngsters

GOLD BEACH—Fourteen 4-H club boys participated in the first calf scramble ever to be held at the Curry County Fair. Neil Knapp and Gary Jameson Port Orford, were successful contestants to get calves.

Herb Morrill, purebred Hereford breeder, Langlois, contributed one of the calves and the community took up a collection for the other one.

The Curry county calf scramble was conducted under rules comparable to those in force at the Pacific International. The 4-H club member who successfully catches and leads out a calf must feed it and bring it back a year later to be shown at the fair again. This should increase the 4-H beef project enrollment. Morrill is using this means for promoting the breeding of better cattle in Curry county.

A weaner pig, greased and "on his own" was run down and captured by a boy not much larger than the pig. However, on his third or fourth "pass" at the critter. Despite the condition of his clothing he was 'man' enough to carry the animal to his folks and their car.

GOLD BEACH—Dode Burch, 60, who died here at the fair rodeo, was a well-know Grants Pass stockman and rodeo promoter.

Dode made an unsuccessful attempt to rope a cow in the wild cow milking contest, and had ridden back to the chute where he fell from his horse.

Mrs. Burch was taking part in the activities of the rodeo. Their son is brand inspector of Josephine county.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vickers are parents of a six-pound, 12-ounce daughter, born at the Gold Beach hospital, early Monday morning. They haven't decided upon the name at this moment.

Chauncey Miller of Healdsburg, Calif., spent the week-end in this area, attending the wedding of his daughter, Coramae.
