

SPORTSMEN'S COLUMN

The clarion cry that the salmon were in the Chetco rang out Monday night and the fact that several of the advance guard had been taken during the day and a few on Sunday, it really looked as though the run was on.

Several guests of Gordon Goetz have found the knack of it. Bob Williams of Redding caught a nice little 14-lb. silverside on a Bear Valley spinner. John Cox caught a 12-pounder and lost a larger one. Gordon himself was the proud possessor of a 22-lb Chinook. He claimed he caught it himself but you can't pinch a fellow for wondering if one of the guests who didn't have a license to fish slipped it to him on the spot.

A young woman (name not furnished) was said to have landed a 32-pounder. If the young woman will come forth and identify herself, claim the reward, the management will fur (What am I saying?) Well anyway, congratulations!

Parker and Biddle came in for their share of fish as did several others whose names were not furnished.

However, the river is low. In fact it's very low. It is estimated that it is nearly half as low as those women, or shall we call them females who, almost daily over a certain network, arise and testify for a consideration you understand, that in changing from El Stinkissimo brand cigarettes to El Stinkissimo they have eliminated all cig hangover, etc., etc. Don't wish 'em any bad luck—choke—cough—choke. Anyway, the river being so low these fish are not apt to go very far up and they will probably be offered a wide selection of lures.

Though the number of boats on Smith River is increasing daily, and quite a number of fish are being taken, the average take is still disappointingly low. A little better average is maintained on the Rogue, though bigger runs are expected later.

CLUB HOUSE ACTIVITY

Those present Sunday, laying oak flooring include Wesley Smith, John Hogan, Emil Edwardson (working for Archie Anderson), Bill Weideman, Bradley Page, Pete and Joe Lesmeister. Pete was on hand the Sunday before but arrived so late he thought he would put in a fuller session this Sunday.

A week earlier the crew concentrating on the roof work included Blaine Gribble and his boys, A. B., Leon and Gene Thomas, Lloyd Harbin, Lloyd Stefani, Lloyd Moss, Homer Haggerty, Virg Goldsberry, while Bill Weideman and Bill Wridge took care of the ground work.

Projects to receive the attention of willing workers soon include further wiring, more work on the floor, installation of hot water tank and some additional plumbing, together with miscellaneous work on tables, etc.

Time for acceptance of respirator has been extended somewhat longer so any organization or individuals who have not yet contributed, may do so at any time soon.

A Feller Sez—

Charity still begins at home, but nowadays it is taking lots of trips abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Patterson returned late last week from their vacation trip to San Francisco and way point. They returned by car.

LOCAL NEWS

Among those doing jury duty from southern Curry during the fall term of court were Mrs. Grace Edwardson, Earl Carson, Leonard Harvey, Victor Anderson, Pete Lesmeister, Archie Hendricks, Norris Kemp, and W. H. Hibbard, Carl Berger. Bulb growers drawn on the jury didn't enjoy the necessity of being away at this time.

Mrs. William Burrell of Bandon is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Springer, and assisting in the bulb harvest. Her daughter, Diane, who attended the local school a few years ago, entered Oregon State College this fall, and is in the same dormitory with two local girls, Marilyn Struebing and Joan Byrne.

Mrs. Nell Smith left for her home at Los Angeles Monday by way of Southwest Airways, after being house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Rice for a week. Mrs. Rice's daughter, Miss Nancy Stone, also left Saturday to continue her studies at Stanford University.

Mrs. John Tworek and little son are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Massett at their home on the Winchuck. They came Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Clara Kerns returned to the area from a ten-day visit to Medford and Klamath Falls, late last week.

Cars Side-swipe North Of Town Tuesday Evening

A Seattle car, southbound, had a flat tire just as it was rounding the curve just north of the Archie Anderson place, Tuesday evening, and swayed over the yellow line in the path of an oncoming California car, headed in a northerly direction. While damage was quite extensive, to both cars, no one was hurt in the least. Wreckers took the cars to Crescent City Wednesday.

And Now You Can Actually Find Out!

Here's a chance for the Pilot readers to have some fun with that petite little gal across the street who dislikes very much to divulge her age. Ask her to designate the different tables her age appears in the following — you'll have her then, for all you need to do is add up the numbers in the upper left hand corner of the designated tables. This will work, providing the little lady will be truthful:

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Powell enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schultzwohl, Mr. and Mrs. George Bassett, and Paul Branden, all of Grants Pass, last Sunday. They had a beautiful day here which hadn't been promised by the stormy weather they encountered on the trip over the mountains.

The first carload of lily bulbs to be shipped this season from this area, was shipped Tuesday, Sept. 27, by Karl W. Samuelson, buyer for George J. Ball, Inc., of West Chicago. The car went to eastern points.
