BY C. E. SEGER
 Gold Beach, Ore.
 World War 2 veterans will have preference in acquiring 50 farm units covering 4489 acres of irrigable public land on the Payette division of the Boise reclamation project near Caldwell, Idaho, the Oregon Department of Veterans Affairs reported this week.
 Veteran applicants must file with the irrigation manager, Bureau of Reclamation, Notus, Idaho, before Jan. 3, 1950, to obtain priority over the general public in acquiring the homesteads. Application forms and the necessary data should be obtained at the same address.
 The reclamation bureau says the land is undeveloped and is mostly in sagebrush, and located at elevations ranging from 2300 to 2500 feet. Soils range from clay to sandy loams, and lands are adapted to dairying and production of alfalfa, pasture, clovers, wheat, oats, barley and peas.
 Applicants must have at least $3500 in cash or such assets as livestock, farm machinery and equipment, and must also have had two years of farming experience and must intend to farm as an occupation.

GOLD BEACH—Fleeces from the Perkins and Spoerl ranch placed first and fifth at the Pacific International Livestock exposition at Portland.
 The Seaview ranch, owned and operated by two sisters, Ina Sheridan and Florence Adolphsen, took second and third. Both of these ranches are in the Port Orford district.
 Nat Perkins, veteran showman, has been in charge of the Curry county booths at the state fair and Pacific International for a number of years and has had many displays which have held the interest of fair goers, and were highly praised.
 The Seaview Sisters report they plan to spend their premium money to improve their polished agate collection. Visitors at the last Curry County fair will remember their display which had been picked up on the beach at their ranch.
 Nat reported that his premium money was spent before leaving Portland.
