

Along Azalea Row

BY B. MILLER

No doubt you have read her stories and articles—in the Oregon Journal, the Christian Science Monitor, or some other publication. She writes about what interests her, sometimes a different phase of Oregon history, or perhaps something of our own modern times, as the Ashland Shakespearean Festival.

You have seen her, too, at our own Azalea Festival and Flower Show, a slender, pleasant young woman, Miss Constance Bordwell!

Our Miss Bordwell, for she is coming home to us this summer. She hopes to be in her little Harbor home!

Not to rest from arduous academic labors, but to a summer of work. Perhaps unconsciously, she realizes that we who are so busy ourselves have a sympathetic respect for the writer's need of seclusion. We do not have here in our Brookings-Harbor community, the resort atmosphere of many a coastal community.

"Why did you choose to make Harbor your home?" we asked Connie Bordwell. "Well, truthfully," she replied, "Harbor chose me. You see I grew up in the Rogue River Valley not far from Medford, and some years later when I was an editor in a publishing house in New York City, I used to dream of a cottage along the Oregon coast. The war came along and whisked me to the U. S. Naval air station at Tillamook. Then it was I decided that, given the right books, music, pictures and people, the Oregon coast was the place for me."

So when the opportunity came to buy a cottage along side of my life-long friends, the Newtons, I did not have to even think twice. The Chetco valley had everything I wanted: the ocean, the mountains, friendly people, Portland and San Francisco only a day's drive away."

We visited her home, a substantially built white house with an air of expectant waiting. Waiting for its owner to give it a personality. Constance Bordwell, as all of us do here, plans changes for her home.

Like the little house, we too, wait expectantly. So hurry down, Connie, when your teaching duties at Multnomah College are, at last, finished.

Gold Beach H. S.

Last Thursday and Friday evenings marked the end of Curry county high school conference games with Gold Beach taking all honors, having trounced the Langlois quint the first night, and then edging out the Brookings Bruins in a close battle, 37 to 36. We do wish to thank Mr. Guthrie Bruins coach, for letting us win the tournament. Evidently however, that wasn't his idea to let us have it for the Bruins put all they had into the entire encounter and probably due to the fact that the Panthers, under able coaching of Lawrence Sydow, didn't let the tuned-up aggregation from Brookings win, has changed their decision to let the tie stand for first place, as Gold Beach and Brookings, Co-Champions of Curry County, for there will be a play-off on the Brookings floor.

Gold Beach topped the Bruins both times they played on the Gold Beach floor—now will the Bruins again win over the Panthers on their home floor? The decision will be made next Monday night. However, the Panthers are going to district tournament to be held at Yoncolla's new gym.

Not By Bread Alone

"Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust consume and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal; for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. No one can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one and love the other or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You can not serve God and Mammon." Matt 6:19-33.

Only a few comparatively will heed the Masters injunctions here: but they will be the ones who will enjoy the "true riches" in the life to come. "Be ye also ready." —Jos. M. Johnson, Gold Beach.

'Sewing Girls'

Our first knitting meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Zumpfe. We elected officers: President—Marjorie Moore. Vice-president—Lois LeClair. Secretary—DeEtta Hyland. Treasurer and Reporter—Maxine Moore.

We decided to call our club: "Harbor Clicky Clickers."

We have only four in our club and need another to make a good club. Anyone interested should contact the leader. — Maxine Moore, reporter.

SEWING GIRLS

In the sewing club we are finishing our needle cases. We are starting pin cushions. Vanda Vaughan has not been present for a few meetings. Sandra Simmons was not here this week.

With The Churches

Christian Scientist

Services Sunday at 11:00 a. m. at the I. O. O. F. Hall. The public is invited.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 26.

The Golden Text is "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus, the Lord, so walk ye in him: . . . for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily" (Col. 2:6, 9).

Among citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Who-soever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: . . ." (1 John 5:1), together with the following correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature" (page 333).

Smith River Methodist

Sunday School at 10 a. m. Mrs. Grace VanZee, supt.

Morning Worship at 11 a. m. Rev. E. C. Hicks will deliver the sermon.

Episcopal

Regular services at 11 a. m. on the first and third Sundays of the month.

Full Gospel

(Un denominational)

William Ward, Pastor

Services at VFW HALL

Mrs. Lewis T. Knapp, Supt.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.

Morning Worship at 11 a. m.

Sunday night at 7:30.

Tuesday night Bible study is in the homes.

Thursday night evangelistic meeting at 7:30.

Bible study next Tuesday evening will be held at the Knapp residence on Ransom Ave. at 7:30 o'clock.

A good attendance is being shown at these studies. We have begun the Book of Romans. With 36 present at Sunday school last Lord's day, a contest was announced, to try to boost our membership to 75 by Easter. A

Thompson chain reference Bible will be the award given the adult bringing in the most. Several awards will be given to boys and girls who earn honors likewise.

A special service will be planned for Easter Sunday when all these awards will be made. A hearty welcome awaits you. Do come and help us grow as well as doing yourself a spiritual favor.

Baptist Community

Rev. Nick N. Neufeld, Pastor
Jeanette Pierce, Sunday school Supt.

Mrs. Stanley Patterson, music director.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.
Morning worship at 11 a. m.
Evening service at 7:30 p. m.

We are so happy that many of the parents are taking their children to Sunday school. However, there are still many parents who are not taking their children to Sunday school. We would invite those parents especially that they, too, would give their children that opportunity of receiving Christian education, such a great need.

We have classes for all ages. The young married people have a class for themselves. If your child is two years old or over, bring him. If younger, take him to the class with you.

On Friday, Feb. 24, churches of the area are united in World Day of Prayer. All are urged to give some time of the day for prayer. Friday evening we will have a joint prayer meeting. All are invited to this service. If you believe in prayer, we expect to see you next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Wednesday night prayer meeting and Bible study is drawing a good group. We are beginning a series of discussions on "How to Succeed in a Christian Life." We are endeavoring to lay good foundation and thus have a good beginning in our Christian life. To be successful we must begin right.

We invite all those who are new in the community who have no other church affiliations to attend our services this Lord's Day—with us. Services listed above.

Star of the Sea Catholic Church

Rev. Fr. Donald Denman
First Sunday of month at 12 noon.

Young People — Saturday at 3:45 p. m.

Prayer Meeting — Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. in Harbor.

The service this Saturday will feature a symposium on "The Parables of the New Testament."

Prayer meetings are continuing at the pastor's home on Wednesday nights with studies on the "Patriarchs and Prophets."

Rotarians Learn Of Vitamins, Shells

Lloyd Moss, travelling ambassador of Brookings Rotary Club, who made an extended journey during the winter, told more of his experiences in Florida during January, Tuesday at luncheon, when he displayed a number of shells, picked up on the beaches, and showed leaves of a palm.

"I can imagine these garden clubbers going about crazy picking up these different leaves to be used in flower arrangements.

"I certainly enjoyed every moment of the trip to the beach of an island just off the west coast where a woman is carrying on the work she and her husband began many years ago. She, a native of Tahiti, who married a sea captain, transplanted many tropical trees on this island.

(Here Mr. Moss read a list of about 20, all giving edible fruits or nuts) "Certainly these different trees, their landscaping effect and all, reminds one that it must approach a paradise in appearance.

"I noticed, too, that Rotary clubs over the country have a uniformity that is amazing. One will notice that members are of a certain type, and I believe the highest. Meetings are conducted pretty much along a pattern, too, all interesting and instructive.

"It is fun to visit clubs on a trip, although one is often made to change travel plans in order to 'make' a meeting. I expect to always visit on any trip I make, henceforth."

New Vitamin May Prolong Life

Dr. J. E. Stevenson, in reading an article in a recent Readers' Digest, told the Rotarians that this new vitamin, B12, is so potent and so successful in leukemia, that amazing results have been observed by the medical profession. In the article the story of its discovery, and by accident, and commercial preparation by the various chemical companies.

Basis for this new vitamin is liver, recommended by doctors for diets of anemics. It takes about four tons of livers to produce a dram of vitamin. However, a dosage of the vitamin is about one-millionth of an ounce, or about one fiftieth the weight of a human hair, an inch long.

Attorney Ed F. Ackley, who has spent the past couple of weeks at San Francisco and Santa Cruz, returned on the midnight bus Monday. He reports no rain in that area while he was there.

Counties Receive Forest Serv. Funds

GRANTS PASS—Payment to states of Oregon and Washington of more than three million dollars for the fiscal year 1949 to be apportioned to the counties in which the national forests are located is announced by regional forester, H. J. Andrews, of the forest service.

The total of $3,152,176.65 is in an all-time high. It represents 25% of the gross receipts collected by the U. S. Forest Service from timber sales, livestock grazing, recreation permits and other business on the national forests in the region for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949. Of this amount $2,044,693.81 went to Oregon and $1,107,482.84 to Washington according to Andrews. An additional benefit is in the ten per cent of the gross receipts of the forest service which is returned by the treasury department for use within the national forests on roads and trails in the two states.

The counties in which national forests are located have shared financially in the multiple use principle under which the national forests are managed to bring about the greatest good to the greatest number. Since 1906, the national forests have returned a total of $19,192,758.86 to Oregon and Washington, representing 25 per cent of the gross receipts.

A sum of $81,565.47 is being apportioned to those counties (Coos, Curry, Josephine and Del Norte) lying partially within the boundaries of the Siskiyou National Forest, as their share of the 1949 receipts.

Both these transactions were handled through C. O. & L. L. Leonard agency.
