

Reception Held For Newlyweds At Smith River

SMITH RIVER—Mrs. Miriam Barnes was hostess for a reception and open house Sunday afternoon and evening from 2 to 9, at the Barnes home when friends and relatives from Brookings, Harbor, Crescent City and Smith River, gathered to congratulate the newweds, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carson, who returned from a wedding trip.

Miriam Mae Norton of this place and Donald Carson of Harbor, were united in marriage at Chapel of Flowers on the evening of March 10, with Rev. Setrem of the Lutheran church officiating.

The bride wore a blue gabardine dressmakers suit with black accessories, and orchid corsage. They returned here Wednesday after a wedding trip to San Jose and other places of interest. They motored to Klamath Falls, former home of Mr. Carson.

Mrs. Carson is the daughter of Mrs. Miriam Barnes and the late Dr. Barnes. She is graduate of Del Norte high school, and at present is employed at Westbrook Market. Mr. Carson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carson of Harbor, and is a graduate of Klamath Falls schools. He is associated with his father in the lily bulb industry.

Cake, coffee and punch were served. The main attraction was the three-tier bride's cake, baked and frosted by the groom's mother, Mrs. Carson, and his aunt, Mrs. Wilda Carson. The cake, frosted with white, was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The room of the Barnes home was attractively decorated with bouquets of daffodils and carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Carson will make their home at Harbor.

OTHER SMITH RIVER NOTES
Plans are almost completed for the annual Smith River Flower Festival to be held Thursday, March 30, at the community hall and sponsored by the Smith River Woman's club.

General chairman, Mrs. Eunice Faris, and committees are working hard to make the affair a big success. The main auditorium of the hall will be used for the flower arrangements and tea tables. There will be plants and bulbs available to those who are planning spring flower gardens. Tea hostess chairman is Mrs. George Raymond for the afternoon, and Mrs. Mabel Brown for the evening. The doors will be open during the evening for all who can not attend in the afternoon.

The many friends of Mrs. Edward Westbrook are wishing her speedy recovery from two major operations, undergone recently at Franklin hospital, San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Frosini of Smith River Hotel received word of the death of his mother, Friday, who passed away after a brief illness. The Frosinis will attend the funeral.

Mrs. William Westbrook is recovering satisfactorily from severe burns she received recently on her arms and chest. She removed the lid from a pressure cooker, and the steam struck her. She was rushed to Crescent City where medical aid was given. She was lucky that the steam missed her face.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Rowley and daughters, Dorothy and Lorraine returned Sunday evening from Medford, where they visited relatives and attended to business matters.

Mrs. Eddie Westbrook is guest of her sister and niece, Mrs. Ada Hursh, and Mrs. Edna Ross, at the Variety Store for several days, where her many friends call to extend greetings.

Miss Billie Hall, student at Humboldt State College, Arcata, spent the week-end visiting her sister, Miss Barbara, and parents Mr. and Mrs. William Hall.

LANGLOIS NEWS

By Nancy Moore

King Neptune's Kingdom was the scene that greeted the eyes of the large crowd of people who attended the carnival and circus given by the Langlois grade school at the high school gym last Friday. The walls of the gym were decorated with pictures of mermaids and deep-sea fish and each of the carnival booths was decorated with fish.

The program was: School band played three numbers. Then the stage was cleared and when the curtains were pulled, King Neptune and his court appeared. King Neptune, played by Andy Anderson, welcomed the crowd to his kingdom and announced the various acts as they appeared. The acts: 1. The Fish of the Primary grades marched. They demonstrated the various things they had learned to do in their physical education classes. 2. The Flashing Fish, Wilbur and Judy Jensen, sang and tap-danced. They were accompanied by Charlie Jensen with the piano. 3. Flashing Baton Twirlers of Barbara Seeber's class performed. 4. Tonette solo, "Long, Long Ago," by Lila Tucker. 5. Deep-sea Divers of the sixth grade marched and staged a mock battle. Their divers suits were made of big, brightly-painted boxes. 6. Seventh and eighth grade girls sang "Bells of the Sea." 7. 4th and 5th grade pirates gave a play, featuring Captain Kidd and Long John. 8. Solo, "Sweet and Low," by Charlene Turner. 9. Monsters of the Deep, fourth and fifth grade girls, tumbled. 10. Seventh and eighth grade boys sang "Cool Water." 11. The Silver Fish of the fourth and fifth grades performed with their batons. Patty Merrillod was leader. King Neptune then adjourned his court and the crowd enjoyed the carnival booths and dancing to the music of Charlie Jensen's orchestra. The many carnival booths included a fish pond, bingo, fortune telling, novelty, the baseball throw, darts, peep-show, balloon, candy and refreshments. A green and gold jacket was given to Vic Neff.
