

LANGLOIS NEWS

By Nancy Moore

Wilbur Jensen won first place in the talent show given in connection with the Dick Contino show at Coquille last Thursday night. Wilbur won with his impersonations of famous musicians on the trumpet. Wilbur is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jensen and he plays as a regular musician in his father's dance orchestra. Congratulations are being sent him by friends.

Mrs. Frank Moore left by bus Saturday morning for a few days visit with her grandson, Patric Baker. Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Baker, live at Medford where Mr. Baker is employed at the airport.

Mr. and Mrs. Thetford and son have moved from the Golden Rod cabins to the Anderson Apts.

Members of the Sixes Grange held an April Fool's day party at the hall Saturday night. The next Grange meeting will be on Saturday, April 8.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Moore were shopping at Coos Bay Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Frank Croston and two sons visited her parents at Salem last week.

Langlois Extension Unit will meet at Mrs. Pauline Anderson's on April 6, at 10:30 a. m. for the next meeting. The topic of the meeting, "Fitting Slacks," will be given by Dorothy Newton, county home demonstration agent. Members are asked to wear slacks to the meeting. A sack lunch will be served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Strain journeyed to Medford last Wednesday to attend the funeral of a relative.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Cal Robbins at Leep Memorial hospital, Bandon, last week. The little lad has been named Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seeber and daughter, Barbara, left for Eugene, Friday. Mrs. Seeber will see an eye specialist while there. They plan to return this week.

The baking demonstration, given at Sixes Grange at 2 p. m., Tuesday, March 28, was attended by many ladies of the area. Those attending from Langlois were: Mesdames Nana Moore, Florence Thorhaven, Helen Fain, Alice Hofess, Stella Slocum, and Letitia Cadman. The demonstration, given by Mrs. Frances Brennen, the Celia Lee of Crown Flour Mills, was on the mixing, shaping, and baking of fancy breads and rolls. Mrs. Brennen demonstrated quick methods and explained the action of each ingredient in the resulting product. The ladies tasted the samples and pronounced them very good.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neff and four children, Marilyn, "Butch," Benny and Bobby, have moved from their house near the high school to Four Mile. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Storm will soon move into the house.

We had a few days of real spring weather last week but the entrance of April brought some "showers." April 1 gave us some April fool weather—one moment the sun would be brightly shining and the next the rain would be coming down in torrents.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
The students had a three-day vacation, April 3, 4 and 5, because a conference of teachers was held at Portland, Mr. Croston and Mr. Mitchell attended.

Girls of the Home Living class have accomplished quite a bit of crocheting during the past two weeks. They have made some handkerchiefs. Next they will make rugs and edging for towels and learn to knit.

With Easter approaching, the school children in this area are enjoying their first spring vacation in many years, while teachers are attending OEA conference at Portland. The Joe Kampas plan to return Thursday so as not to miss the school board meeting which was postponed to Thursday from Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Absten continued on to Seattle Wednesday to visit her daughters and their families. The school will re-convene Monday.

How to make yeast rolls was topic of a demonstration at the Sixes Grange by Mrs. Frances Brennen, professionally known as Celia Lee of the Crown Mills. About 30 women were present to learn among other things that canned milk need not be scalded when used in yeast doughs and that shortening may be added without melting if it is soft. Many were the compliments for the hot baked rolls when passed as samples. Enthusiasm was such that several planned to make light rolls for dinner that night.

These sunshiny days are the gardener's delight. Mrs. Hattie Whitmore was out weeding her strawberry bed and preparing a place to set out a few blueberry plants. The Joe Hulces are busy spading their always neat and well-kept yard. Mrs. Gertrude Zumwalt is continuing to landscape the front yard of her new home, bringing down plants and shrubs from her former home on the hill where they lived for many years. This garden has long been known for its profusion of bloom at all seasons and its so many rare plants.

"Fitting of Slacks" will be the topic of next home demonstration meeting to be given by Miss Dorothy Newton, Wednesday, April 12 at the Episcopal Parish hall. The meeting had to be postponed until the 12th because regular meeting date fell on Good Friday. Those attending should provide their own sack lunch.

The nominating committee, Noma Thomas, Fern Townley and Bee Cooley, is selecting candidates for the election of officers to be held at the business meeting at 1:30 on that day. Many members may wish to be present for the election, so a definite hour has been set for that portion of the meeting.

The John Flannigans have moved from their Hamlet home to Portland where Mr. Flannigan is resuming his former position with a Portland firm. The Flannigans are parents of Mrs. Joe Hughes.

Jack Masterson is recuperating satisfactorily in a Scotia hospital after serious injuries from a head-on crash with a large truck near Garberville, early last week. Mrs. Vernive Masterson, his mother, who teaches in the high school here, made the trip to his bedside with the Blaine Marshs. Masterson's car, which was new three weeks ago was said to have been almost totally demolished.
