

LANGLOIS NEWS

By Nancy Moore

Archie Aldropp, local Scout leader, reports that 21 boys have signified their intention of living by the Boy Scout pledge. Their charter, for which they applied recently, is expected soon. The boys meet each Wednesday in their quarters in the new building which has been built this year by volunteer labor. It is used by Langlois Sportsmen's club and houses the community fire-fighting equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kerber are parents of a son, born to them at Mast hospital, Myrtle Point, April 21. The baby, who weighed six pounds, is their fourth child.

Nancy Moore, the Langlois correspondent, left Thursday morning for Riddle. She was one of six bridesmaids at the wedding of Virginia Lilly and Ernest Victor of Riddle. The Moore and Lilly families are friends of long standing. After the wedding Nancy went to Medford to spend the week-end at the home of her sister, returning Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Victor made a brief call at the Frank Moore home Sunday morning on their way home from their honeymoon.

The Youth Dance, sponsored by Sixes Grange, was held Friday evening at the hall. This is an enjoyable affair for the young people from 12 to 92, and is always attended by an enthusiastic group.

Sixes Grange held its regular meeting Saturday. After the business session, members had a hilarious time of entertainment with games and stunts along the fishing theme, appropriate to the season, and as a prelude to the tales of all the big ones that got away; as talked over at the pot luck refreshments tables.

April 18 at 8 p. m. a group of about 50 interested persons gathered at the grade school gym to organize the first P-T. A. in Langlois.

Jack Seeber, temporary chairman, called the meeting to order and stated briefly the purpose of the meeting and called upon Mrs. Seeber to further elucidate the reason for the meeting and to state ways and means.

The teachers were introduced by their respective school board chairmen. Regrettably the grade teachers were absent due to a Curry county teachers meeting at Port Orford the same night, but the three high school teachers were there. Mr. Croston, representing the entire faculty, gave a brief talk to the meeting.

Officers elected were: Jack Seeber, president; Mrs. Gerald Quinn, vice-president; Mrs. Dick Barklow, secretary; Mrs. Jo Everest, treasurer. Mr. Seeber announced that there would be meeting of the officers soon and that standing committees would be appointed so that the new organization can get to work in earnest at the time of school opening next fall. It is expected that one of the first considerations will be affiliation with the state group. Mrs. Charles Jensen had arranged musical program for the pleasure of the group. Roger Stankavich played two violin selections, and Mrs. Sidney Cadman favored with two vocal numbers.

A potted plant was given to the second grade and one to the junior class for being represented by the greatest number of parents present. Refreshments of coffee and homemade cakes were served.

Miss Dorothy Newton, HDA, was here Thursday in connection with 4-H clubs.

Various committees of the local home extension units are busy preparing their part in the coming Homemakers' Festival. Pauline Anderson and Jean Strain are in charge of the slipper chair exhibit, Ollie Burgess of the style revue, while several others are working on posters, scrap book, floral arrangement. Tickets for the luncheon are on sale at Dinty's in care of Pauline Anderson and Nana Moore.

All our community is rejoicing with the Don Brooks family in the return home of their son Ronnie, who has been ill so long. Ronnie had a hard bout with rheumatoid arthritis. The staff at Doernbecker hospital have earned the undying gratitude of the family and friends of little Ronnie in bringing him back to health.

Along Azalea Row

BY B. MILLER

Harbor! Harbor and Brookings-by-the sea! Harbor and Brookings by the Cs. Conservation, coordination and co-operation. z Now is the time when we are writing to our friends and relatives and inviting them to spend the summer holidays with us here in our flower-mountain-seas paradise.

There are two times when we especially urge them to come.

At the time of the Azalea Festival and later at the Lily Blossom time.

Everyone of us desires the same thing. We want to give our guests the very best that our community has to offer.

There will be a barbecue first. There will be a bargecue at Azalea Park. There will be the crowning of the queen. There will be entertainment.

The Indians are coming up from Smith River. Our First families will entertain for us. They will give us their best performance, we may be sure of that!

Within the school building, there will be a reception center. A quiet place where our visitors can sit at ease and listen to music. About them will be huge, massed displays of our spring-time blooms. There will be pictures to see. A place to sit and rest quietly.

Over in Harbor at the Grange hall, a hobby show will be in progress. We shall invite our guests to go over and see what this community has. It seems as if every household has some old treasure, some antique, some hobby or article of interest.

By concerted effort and action we shall show our guests what Harbor and Brookings by the Cs, conservation of materials, co-ordination of effort and co-operation can produce.

SMITH RIVER

The ladies society of the local church held its first meeting in the room of the new addition of the church, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Ida Hall presided at the business meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. Goodlin. During the business meeting committee chairmen gave reports. Bertha Morrison reported that the cook book had gone to the printers and would go on sale as soon as completed. Sunshine committee reported a card and plant have been sent to Lottie Hocking who recently returned home from Portland where she underwent surgery.

The ladies are making plans for the Antique Tea and program to be held at the community hall on Thursday afternoon, May 11. Una Rowley is chairman of the program. Doors will be open from 2 to 4. The society has purchased veilor to cover the pulpit and choir bench at the local church. This color will match the new green carpet members of the Pioneer Haight family is buying for the floor about the altar and floor and altar railing.

Mrs. Ida Hall is making plans to attend the house party meeting of W. S. C. S. at Hobergs on May 16 and 17. Nominating committee has been appointed to select officers for next year. At the close of the business session gingerbread with whipped cream and coffee were served by Una Rowley and Gladys Lehmkuhl.

Mrs. Lynn Tracy, principal and teacher of the upper grades of Smith River school took her husband by Southwest Airways to San Francisco Thursday. He has been seriously ill for several days and medical attention is being sought at San Francisco. Mrs. Carlton Hansen of Crescent City is substituting.

Miss Jean Brown and Miss Selma Darnell who were accepted in the U. S. Womens air corps left recently for San Francisco where they will continue their trip by train to San Antonio, Texas, for basic training. The position vacated at the office of Crag Co. has been taken by Mrs. Elbert Miller.

Ethel Goodlin was appointed chairman of the pot luck supper to be served in the church annex on evening of May 10 when Dist. Supt. Wm. Owen will be here to meet with members and officers of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham of Glenwood, Wn., were overnight guests Saturday of her mother, Mrs. Frances Ferrill. They returned home Sunday.

Chinook Caught On Rogue, Reports Many Fishermen

GOLD BEACH—Rogue fishing continues good, with many limits caught each day. Mr. and Mrs. Dud Rankin of Bakersfield, Cal. staying at Trivett's lodge, had good luck with a 30½-pounder Monday.

Lucky Lodge was scene of a baby shower given in honor of Mrs. D. C. Pope, Saturday night. Nate and Hazel Smith, Medford, are back fishing after being home for a few days. They stay at Lucky Lodge.

Edgar, guide of Scott's, reports his parties are landing the fish. Dr. Joseph Cooper and Elliott Markoff returned to their home Sunday after having two cases of salmon canned at the Sportsmen's Canney.

Don Sanders of White Rock Cottages had a good rest on the Rogue last week, but plans to fish during his next stay.

There's a lot of whispering in the corners these days about a fish story. Some sportsman had hooked a big Chinook Sunday, and so the story goes, the fish won the battle, getting away with rod and reel. Monday, this rod, reel, and fish were recovered by another fisherman. Names will not come out to the inquirer. However, there has been mention made that Fred Anderson knows more than he is telling people.

Don Krogel will receive a big trophy from Elliott Markoff for the monster he hooked and landed while guiding. Don is non-committal.

Reliable fishing information is available by phoning 495, Gold Beach, Rex and Faye Hayes..

Mack's Motel Guests are now catching, reports say.

Archie Anderson and party arrived here last Sunday after a week's fishing at 14-mile House.

Landscaping Funds Are Sorely Needed

Quite a job faces Elmer Parker and his committee to raise an estimated $1500 or more to aid the Azalea Garden Club in its project of landscaping the local school grounds. Paul DeBlock who will have charge of the project, told Rotarians Tuesday that he wished to supervise the job mainly, that he had to have pay for his work, which he wished to hold to a minimum.

Those who cannot work a day or two on the project, are expected to pay the wages of a person to take their place.

At the Lily Blossom Time all organizations of the community are asked to hold concessions on the street somewhere and to donate proceeds therefrom to the cause.
