

Scholarship List Revealed For Year

GOLD BEACH—Thirty Curry county 4-H summer school scholarship winners are eagerly waiting the annual 10-day trip to Oregon State College campus in Corvallis. This annual 4-H event features special classes in agriculture and home economics, tours, special training in camp counseling and recreation leadership, sports, radio talent shows, girls choir, and the annual 4-H style revue.

Curry county organizations and business men who have contributed $20 toward a scholarship, made it possible for the following girls and boys to attend this year: Pomona-Adolphsen, Elaine LeClair, Harbor; Krista Lee McKenxie, Port Orford; Irene Sypher, Langlois; Tomy Remy of Gold Beach; Stephen Ganong, Gold Beach. Sixes Grange: Marcia McDonald, Port Orford; Gerald Phillips, Langlois. Ophir Grange: Eudora Moore, Ophir. Chetco Grange: Lois LeClair and Gilman Duffy. Nat Perkins: Betty Chadsey, Gold Beach. Curry County Health Association: Dolores Timeus, Pistol River. Floras-Willow Women's Club: Glenda Holycross, Langlois. Gold Beach Women's Club: Diana Melville, Gold Beach. Langlois school—Donald Campbell. Langlois Extension Unit: Iris Robbins, Langlois. Ophir Extension Unit, Janis Burns, Ophir. Dick's Feed and Seed Store, Mary Donaldson, of Denmark. Curry County Bank: Betty Whittaker, Ophir.

Business firms outside Curry County but who receive trade from this area also contributed. These firms and winners are: J. C. Penney Co. Erma Hull of Port Orford. Safeway Stores, Saralie Wolff, Gold Beach. Bread Making Contest (Sears Roebuck foundation) Marlene Pettyjohn, Gold Beach. Oregon Wheat Commission: Lawretta Goudy, Wedderburn. (This was held over from the 1948 state fair).

At present there remains three scholarships to be awarded. The honors are: Bank of Bandon, the chambers of commerce from Gold Beach and Brookings.

Crescent City Met Barrett Tuesday, And Don't Like Him

Jim (I'm a pitcher) Barrett went "all the way," Tuesday at Crescent City, Tuesday, to set down the Crescent City team, by a 19-9 score, to even, in a measure, all the indignities the Pelicans suffered from the Merchants in pre-season games. He was at no particular time in real difficulty. Barrett, although hit pretty hard, was tight in the pinches, and the score was result of bobbles by his mates.

The Pelicans, on the other hand, went to work as they had never before done, and hit the ball with gusto, vengeance or bitterness, whichever is applicable, scoring plenty in the eighth to make sure the Merchants had no question, for once, of the superiority of teams.

Two Teams Meet Sunday, Here

While Tuesday's game wasn't "official" the Pelicans will have a chance, Sunday, to make it so when the two teams meet on the local diamond in the first officially-scheduled league game between the two. Several players will be flown down from Corvallis to help the Pelicans, and it is the earnest prayer of the group to break into the win column in the league. Crescent City hasn't fared any too well either, as league standings will attest.

Ask KIEM For A 'Re-Broadcast'

The national contests of quartets, to be held at Omaha, Nebr., early in June under the auspices of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, is to be available for rebroadcast on all Mutual Network stations Sunday, June 11, at 7:30 p. m. The only quartets eligible for this contest are those winning district championships in the district championships contests previously held throughout the United States and Canada.

It is not mandatory that all Mutual stations carry this program as each station wishes to provide programs most desired by its listeners. It is therefore suggested that all those wishing to hear this broadcast drop a card to KIEM in Eureka, asking the station to carry this program.
