The Art Exhibit

By Elsie Reynolds

The home of the art chairman for Azalea Garden Club, Mrs. Robert Perkins, is beginning to look like a small museum or art gallery. "In fact," says Bob, "I think I'll get me a beret and smock and grow a goatee." Alice reports a great many pictures from far afield and with many more promised and en route. She has been working on the art exhibit all year and has covered a wide field and variety of artists work. These in addition to the works of our local artists should spell growth in the importance of this project of the club as a cultural project that it has to offer its community and state.

Carl Dam, one of our best local artists, will assist this year in staging the art exhibit as well as contributing to it, his own work.

School Poster Contest

The school poster contest, sponsored by Azalea Garden Club, was indeed a success. While the subjects were original and varied and many fine examples of color, detail and composition were submitted, the judges had to bear in mind the intention of the contest, namely, Posters. So with this in mind the final decisions were made; and truly it was difficult. Not only the winners but the second and third choice from each grade will be on display in various places in town.

The winners are:

- First Grade: Tom Gray.
- Second: Aldoha Fielder.
- Third Grade: Robert Berger.

To Mrs. Lillian Mathews in charge of junior exhibits for the club and Mrs. Garcia and to all these school children go the highest praise and appreciation for this successful project in the school.

Along Azalea Row

By Elsie Reynolds

The flower show rehearsal as worked out by Lillian Weideman and her committee chairman was the acme of good organizational preparation and the result of this should be to lighten the burden of all those engaged in the work of putting on the big annual flower show of the Azalea Garden Club for three days during the Lily Blossom Time, July 2, 3 and 4. This careful organization this year will also prevent your entries from getting in wrong classifications and consequently, not judged, an unhappy event for anyone.

Since the garden club invites the entire community to take part in this flower show, both in horticulture specimens and artistic flower arrangements, any member of the community to whom a schedule has not been mailed will be able to procure one from the schedule chairman, Mrs. Martha Grayshel.

There will be a charge of 25c admission to the flower show this year. A paid-up membership card in Azalea Garden Club admits the member free of charge and to the many members of the community who are so very ably assisting the garden club on committees of the flower show will be given badges by the flower show chairman and which will also admit them without further charge.

Children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by an adult and will be admitted free.

Photographers will be given from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. Monday. This hour has been set aside by the flower show chairman in order to give camera enthusiasts a chance to get good pictures of the flower show. Good pictures by the numerous guests of the show means good publicity for the area was her thought. Lighting equipment will be available as well as expert professional advice from Ralph Vincent. Mr. Vincent, as most of you know, headed the staff of photographers for the Journal, Portland, for many years. We are fortunate in this. It means extra attention to guests to the show who bring cameras and get better pictures for them and us.

Elmer Bankus, publicity chairman for the All-Year Events Association, in charge of the Lily Blossom Time this year, will cooperate with the garden club in a unified publicity campaign to put over the events of the festival, including the parade of floats, the annual flower show and art exhibit of the Azalea Garden Club. Ralph Vincent has kindly offered his newspaper background - assistance to Mr. Bankus of the All-Year Events Association and to the garden club in this unified effort for the best results. There is grand cooperation here. Now if the community at large will get behind this with its usual good and enthusiastic performance we should have the best festival yet.

Garden Clubbers, if you have been asked to serve on some committee, won't you please contact your chairman. For a smooth-running show and to avoid confusion at the last minute, each group must be schooled in its particular function. Each and every member has a part in this show. Your help is needed! So, get in there and pitch, gals.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dawson of Portland visited several days with their friend, Mrs. Kathryn Sandstrom, assisting her about her home. Kathryn's Beauty shop will be open today for business, after a new paint job.

Quartet Contest Of Interest Here

A party was given Sunday evening by the local chapter of barbershoppers for their members and friends for purpose of listening to the broadcast over station KIEM of the finals in the International Championship contest, held at Omaha, Nebr. Everyone had a grand time munching ice cream, cakes and coffee to the accompaniment of tunes served up by the local boys.

The broadcast began at 10:30 p. m. and it was a thrill to everyone to hear the songs of the five top quartets of the contest, and listen to the particular brand of harmony dispensed by each.

The Buffalo Bills, of Buffalo, N. Y., carried away top honors, with the Clef Dwellers of Oakland County, Michigan, taking second and The Antlers of Flint, Mich., reclining in third spot.

WHY Should I Join A Church?

Speaking of Jesus, the Scriptures say: "And He is the head of the body, THE CHURCH." Col. 1:18. And in I Cor. 12: 13, 18, 21, 25, 27, we read: "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body. But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body. And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. There should be no schism (division) in the body. Now ye are the BODY OF THE CHURCH, and MEMBERS IN PARTICULAR."

The church is here compared to the human body with Christ as its head. An eye separated from the body could never see. How foolish it would be for the hand to say, "I can be just as good a hand all by myself without being fastened to the body." And yet there are some who believe they can be just as good Christians on their own without becoming members of the church.

Some people today are dissatisfied with the churches. They see unfaithful church members in the church and doubt the efficacy of Christianity. But getting to heaven is something like crossing the Pacific. It would be much easier to cross with a boat load of hypocrites than to try to swim across all by yourself. The value of Christianity is seen in the life of Christ which is sometimes but poorly reflected in lives of some who claim to be church members.

However Jesus set forth the necessity of joining the church in Matt. 16:19 where speaking of the church He says, "Whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Concerning baptism our text in Corinthians states: "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body." Baptism is important because it becomes the gateway to the church. The means by which we enter or join the church. The necessity of being baptized is stressed in the words of Jesus in Mark 16:16, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned."

At the time of baptism we are "added to the church, as is indicated in Acts 2:41, 47, "When they that gladly received his word WERE BAPTIZED: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls—and the Lord added to the CHURCH daily such as should be saved."

So these and many other Scriptural references stress the necessity of being baptized when we come to believe on Christ and at that time, of course, joining the church. This is essential from the standpoint of our own spiritual need and also from the standpoint of Christ's need for an organized group that can spread Christianity throughout the world as He has commissioned. (See Matt. 28:19,20)

One thing that adds confusion to this picture is the fact that there are about 600 different Christian denominations in the world today. This makes it difficult to know which one to join after we've made our decision to accept Christ and join His church.

Here is a problem that should not be settled by just doing as our friends and relatives do or by attending whatever church is closest. There is only ONE church or faith recognized by God although there are honest and sincere Christians in all churches. Jesus says in John 10:16: "And other sheep I have which are not of this fold: them also must I bring, and they shall hear My voice: and THERE SHALL BE ONE FOLD AND ONE SHEPHERD." (See also Eph. 4:5).

The true fold of the Good Shepherd can only be discovered by honest searching of the Scriptures. Notice what Christ calls vain worship: "But in vain they do worship Me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." Matt. 15:9. Christ wants us to study the Bible for ourselves, laying aside all pre-conceived notions and accepting all that we find there even though it points out that we have not been following all of its teachings.

Which church shall I join? There's only one answer, and that is to be found in a thorough and prayerful study of the Scriptures. A clue is given in Rev. 14:6-12, which designates the message that is to be proclaimed to all the world just before Christ comes and identifies the messengers with these words: "Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus."

And the complimentary text, Rev. 12:17, "And the dragon (Satan) was wroth with the women (the church), and went out to make war with the REMNANT of her seed, which KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS OF GOD, AND HAVE THE TESTIMONY OF JESUS CHRIST." God has had a special people in every age and He identifies His last remnant church as preaching the great preparatory message of Rev. 14 and keeping all ten of His commandments (Ex. 20) and having the faith and testimony of Jesus. Seventh-Day Adventists firmly believe that they meet each of these requirements and challenge you to "Search your Scriptures" prayerfully and carefully and determine for yourselves with the aid of the Spirit what is God's truth for today.
