

Flower Show Was Heralded Event

PORT ORFORD—In spite of drizzling weather last Saturday and Sunday afternoons the flower show, put on by the Sunset Garden club here and Sixes-Elk Garden club, was a success. Many visitors from out of town attended and many were the remarks of praise for the event.

Judge of entries was Mrs. Hope Cleverger of Bandon. Fern Townley acted as clerk, recording the prize winners. Several entries were too late for judging but were left on display.

The plant sale, presided over by Mrs. Ivar Fristrom, sold out early, except for one or two containers.

Over $10.00 was taken in at the silver tea. Much difficulty was experienced in tea making, due to highway work which cut off the water to the grade school both days. This also hindered the flower display somewhat as all water had to be carried from nearby homes.

Approximately $25.00 will be added to the fund for shrubbery to landscape the grade school grounds as the result of the co-operation of members of the two garden clubs participating.

This is the first attempt for these two organizations to stage such an event, and according to members, it is hoped that will become an annual event.

Dance Swells Fund For "Fire Truck"

PORT ORFORD—A large audience was present at the Volunteer Firemen's benefit dance last Saturday night at the high school gym, bringing in a sizeable sum toward the purchase of a new fire truck.

Makers, with Art Niemann, trumpet; Val Townley, drums; Mr. King, saxophone and Jim Heater, guest player, saxophone, contributed the toe-tingling tunes from 9:30 to 1 a. m.

Door prize, a double waffle-iron, donated by Port Orford Building Supply Co., was won by Mrs. Audrey Ponting. Many merchandise gifts, contributed by merchants, were given.

There are 12 volunteer citizens in the department, now being headed by Fred Steck, chief. Assistant is A. E. Haight, picked last meeting.

This affair was such a success that future dances will be held to enlarge the fire truck fund, Mr. Steck said.

Talking Books Are Available To Blind

Talking books are books prepared for use by the blind. If there are any persons in this community who have been deprived of their sight to the point of where they cannot see to read these books are now available for distribution.

If any one is interested in obtaining this service personally, or anyone in the family, will call upon Ed F. Ackley, local attorney, he will arrange for this service.

There is no charge of any kind and if medical examination is required to set up the disability there will be no expense.

This service opens up a great field for those who cannot see. This good word should be told to everyone. Someone may be able to come into sunshine despite the darkness of his life.

Harry Chapman, former district manager for West Coast Telephone Co., Coos Bay, but of Everett, Wash., at present, lost his sight, partially, and he has brought this service to attention of the Pilot, and has appointed Ed F. Ackley to act as local representative for this service.
