

Port Orford News

By Dorothy Asdel

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dobbema motored to Oregon from their home in Muskegon Heights, Mich., and are spending a well-deserved vacation with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Dobbema.

William Robinson, whose wife died recently, was the victim of a most unfortunate accident last week. While standing on the sidewalk in front of Katie's Cafe, watching a lineman at work on an electric light pole, Bob Thomas backed his milk delivery truck up to the sidewalk to deliver the milk to the restaurant. Mr. Robinson was hit by the truck with sufficient force to throw him to the sidewalk. He was taken to Kaiser Hospital, North Bend, and it is believed that his right hip bone was broken, but X-rays reveal only a crack.

Supt. of Schools, Joseph Kampa, who is attending summer school at Eugene, spent the week end with his family here.

Jimmy and Phyllis Woodward and sons, spent a most enjoyable vacation with Phyllis' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Krieger, at Bull Creek, Calif. Much time was spent in deep-sea fishing and it reports are to be taken for correct the cannery worked overtime when the family returned with their catch.

Coastal Gourmets welcome the news that Frances Burris is the proprietor again of Humbug Mt. restaurant. Last March, ill-health forced Harold Burris, Frances' husband, to relinquish management of this popular eating place. It was leased to Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDuffy. The McDuffys found it impossible to continue and last week Frances was induced to return. She is assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cunningham.

Mrs. Ralph Angell returned Friday to her home on Elk River after spending a month with her son, John, at Neskowin, whose family is summering in the east, and with her son, Ralph Jr. at Portland. Mrs. Angell was accompanied home by her grandson, Chris Angell, who plans to spend the summer in Port Orford.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Axeter of Vancouver, B. C., spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson, on their return trip from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Marsh of this place, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton of Gold Beach and Mr. and Mrs. George Fromm of Coquille took a three-day trip last week-end to Bend and other central Oregon parts. Their travels covered over 900 miles.

Port Orford has now completed the laying of all water mains according to Eugene White, water superintendent. The work included relaying some of the water mains to the reservoir.

Mrs. J. A. Abston who teaches third and fourth grades in the local schools, is attending University of Washington at Seattle for eight weeks this summer.

Mrs. Illene Downey and Mrs. Betty Lou Heavey, of Seattle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Abston, are spending a month with Mrs. Abston here. They returned with Mr. Abston from Seattle when he took his wife up to enter the university. Mrs. Max Abston and son of Port Orford also went with her husband's parents to visit her own family whose home is in Seattle. They also returned with Mr. Abston. Mrs. Clyde Williamson, Mrs. Leonard Munson and Mrs. Blaine Marsh drove to Portland last week to meet Mrs. Williamson's grandson, Bobby Kennedy, from Connecticut. Bobby, who is 11, flew from LaGuardia Field in New York to Portland by himself in an effort to spend his summer vacation with the Munsons on the ranch.

Mrs. Delores Mayes and two children drove to Portland last week with Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Corbin. Delores and children visited Mr. and Mrs. George Mayea while there and Mrs. Corbin entered the St. Vincent's hospital for an operation. Also traveling to Portland with the Corbins were their niece and nephew, children of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Smith of Portland. The children had been visitors in the Corbin home here. Mr. Corbin, Delorest and children returned home last Sunday but Mrs. Corbin will remain at the hospital for another week or two. Dorothy Asdel, Port Orford correspondent for the Pilot, left last week on a two-weeks vacation with her parents at Big Sur, Calif.
