Mrs. Ruth Wimmer will be the new cook at Ophir school, following opening, Sept. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Wells and family of Weott, Calif., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Wells' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nowlin. Mr. Wells' mother, Mrs. Edith Wells, former Ophir resident, came with them.

Many Ophirites got together at the old Grange hall, Saturday evening for another of those affairs that are advertised by the "grape-vine," and everyone arrives with food and the kids for an evening of dancing, singing, gossip and just plain fun.

D. D. Sparhawk is spending the summer as look-out on Brushy Band.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barrett of Portland were recent guests of the Bud LeClair family.

Mr. and Mrs. San Morris of Empire were week-end guests of Lee Pollock family.

Travis Miller is now employed at the Double O Mill.

Hal Shoemaker is at San Francisco on business.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Shepherd, and Don, Dave Thompson, have returned from a trip to Seattle, Long Beach, Wash., and Portland.

LANGLOIS NEWS

By Nancy Moore

In a hall decorated with the royal colors, purple and gold, Edna Logan was announced as Northern Curry Princess for the county fair at Queen's ball held at Sixes Grange, Saturday, Aug. 19. Miss Logan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Logan of Port Orford and is a 1950 graduate of Port Orford high. She and two other contestants, Mary Jean Sabin of Langlois and Joyce Bright of Port Orford, each received a sweater set as a gift from the Grange in appreciation of their efforts at selling tickets to the dance. As the queen of the fair is chosen according to the number and quality of entries made by the people of her section of the county, it is now up to the people of Northern Curry to change Princess Edna's title from princess to queen by making as many entries as is possible at the fair, which will be held on Sept. 1, 2 and 3.
