Thousands Enroll In "Crusade For Freedom" In Ore.

PORTLAND—The Crusade for Freedom is rolling into a mighty movement in Oregon, and throughout the rest of the nation, says F. N. Belgrano, Jr., state Crusade chairman.

Oregon county chairmen, Belgrano reports, have set up hard-hitting, efficient organizations of volunteer workers in every city and community in the state. Oregonians are being enrolled by tens of thousands on Freedom Scrolls, which are to be enshrined eventually with a Freedom Bell in Berlin as a mass declaration of the desire of the people of this nation for peace and liberty for all peoples of the world.

The Crusade, Belgrano explained, is an outgrowth of the National Committee for Free Europe, formed in 1949, at the suggestion of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. The committee first of all provides a haven for exiled leaders of Communist-controlled countries. It then uses the voices of these exiles, over Radio Free Europe, a powerful radio station, as counter propaganda against the four hundred thousand words of anti-American maliciousness which daily pour out of 85 Russian and satellite radio stations, plus the tons of Communist material put out by the Red-controlled press.

Voluntary contributions by the Freedom Scroll signers will be used to expand the voice of Radio Free Europe to a network of from five to eight stations, directed to all of eastern Europe, so that America's pro-freedom truths may be really tremendously effective in refuting Soviet Russia's lies.

the meeting at 10:30 a. m.

All unit chairmen, vice-chairmen and secretaries are urged to attend.

County committee members to take part in the program are: Mrs. Hazel McKenzie, Mrs. Noma Thomas, Port Orford; Mrs. Mabel Adams, Ophir; Mrs. Pauline Anderson, Langlois; Mrs. Betty Wilson, Gold Beach.

F. N. Tygart, Don Craig, John Darger and Whitey Matson expect to make up a party leaving tomorrow for eastern Oregon on a deer hunting expedition. The

O. K. Rubber Welders will be closed for one week.

IT SEEMS TO ME:

By Dewey

Curry County, the last frontier, is being watched by people from every state, if communications to the Pilot indicate anything. Where these inquiries originate is beyond me, but about two or three times a week here will come a letter, enclosed a dollar or more, to "send the Pilot" for a few weeks. Why?

It seems to me that people are seeking a new place away from the congestion of the industrial east and midwest. Maybe that is not the answer, but I have almost come to that conclusion. Taking Dr. E. F. Duvall's word for it, "one never quite gets this country out of one's mind, once they have visited it." Perhaps, some of these letters to the Pilot are from such travellers who may have stopped over night in the area, or have become sold while en route through here.

Some people of this area have lamented to me that more people in the area would only complicate matters, because there is not sufficient housing to care for present residents. I like to take a more optimistic point of view: "New people certainly should inject new wealth into the area."

The Pilot has been in publication four and a half years. In that short span of time, this area has more than doubled in population, and certainly the end is likely to be another doubling in the next few years. We might as well become used to the idea—it is with us, for keeps.

Elsewhere in this issue is an account of another beauty of this Oregon coast—Rainbow Rocks, so little known, even to local residents. Descriptions, such as the one furnished by Mrs. Erskine Miller, make for good reading and a wider knowledge of the beauties of the area. Anyone in the area, who can tell the Pilot of a similar sight, please furnish a good picture, and it, too, will be given publicity treatment.

Oregon boasts of its parks. A few state can boast half as much—even Montana, with its famous Glacier national, and proximity to Yellowstone, Idaho and Washington have parks which rate almost as high, but none surpassing those of Oregon. These are attractions to tourists—the Pilot would like to help advertise all beauty spots of this area.

Henry Kerr told the Pilot on Sunday he had received a letter from his brother, at Packwood, Washington, telling of death of his son, killed in action in Korea. The lad, 18, was in the same division as Bob Kerr, and was in the vicinity of Seoul.
