Pioneer Passes at Astoria
Funeral services were held for Henry Averill at Astoria, Monday. He was born May 9, 1884, in the Langlois vicinity and grew up in Coos and Curry counties. He served with the coast guard at Bandon for many years before moving to Astoria. He leaves: his widow, Laura; two children, Pern of Salem and Helen Wilson of Astoria and three grandchildren; two brothers, Ed of Portland and Moss of Port Orford who is Henry's twin, and a sister, Mina Fruitt of Halsey; half-brothers, Bill of Gresham; Lina of Corvallis and Warren of Junction City and a half-sister, Lucina who lives in Corvallis with her step-mother, Mrs. Martha Averill. Another sister, Rena Mavity, was buried at Bandon about six weeks ago.

Education Week Observed
Mrs. Hazel Sydow, 7th and 8th grade teacher, held open house Thursday, commemorating Education Week. Programs, stating the hours of various classes, were sent home to parents so that they might select the class they wished to visit.

No special program was arranged as it was thought the parents would enjoy seeing what an actual school day brings. Mrs. Georgia Fromm was among the visitors.

Supt. Week-ends With Bear-Hunt
On her visit to upriver schools Mrs. Fromm, county superintendent, called at Quosaten school, taught by Mrs. Kate Ryan, and while there, Dick and Jack Adams came to report that their dogs had treed a bear close by, and thought perhaps the children and teacher would like to see it. On arrival at the scene, Patty Adams, Jack's daughter, was offered a rifle to shoot the bear. In her excitement, she missed the first shot but not the second. They stayed long enough to see the bear skinned and then back to classroom and lessons. Not often in this day and age does one have an experience like that!

Rebekah Party
Rebekahs held a birthday and Harvest Home party after lodge Wednesday evening. Doris Ackerman was chairman of the refreshment committee with Dorothy Christian and Caroline Oliphant assisting. On the decorating committee were Hazel Sydow, chairman and Jetta Lavin and Bess Richardson. Games were played and there were gifts for the birthday members present. There were about 40 present to enjoy cakes, ice cream and coffee.
