NOTED WEST COAST ENGINEER TO GIVE "CHARTER NIGHT" ADDRESS

At an affair fitting to the occasion, Saturday night, a Rotary charter will be presented the Gold Beach club, at the Grade School building, Gold Beach, with Brookings club as sponsors of the new club in District 154. Elaborate plans have been made for the event with special emphasis being put on the program, by Brookings.

Rotarians attending Charter presentation ceremonies at Gold Beach Saturday evening will be given a treat when they will hear H. J. Brunner, of San Francisco, give the principal address. Mr. Brunner, noted engineer and a consultant on things engineering, has been a member of Rotary since 1908 when San Francisco became club No. 2 in Rotary international.

His experience in Rotary has been full, having been one of the club's early presidents, a district governor, and one time a director of Rotary International. He will be able to give the new Gold Beach club many pointers which will help that group in its part of the international organization.

Graduate of Iowa State College, Mr. Brunner has spent his entire life in the engineering and construction field. He, an authority on bridges, is one of the designers of the big bridges in the Bay area.

Other features of the program Saturday:

"God Bless America," by the audience.

Invocation, Rev. J. L. Mumbower, pastor of Baptist Community church.

Announcements, Introductions and singing.

Dinner (served by ladies of the Catholic and Episcopal churches of Gold Beach at Grade School.

Vocal Solo, by Patsy Cook, radio contest winner and sophomore at Brookings High.

Presentation of Gifts by the other Rotary clubs.

"We Know Your Secrets" by Alice and Bob Perkins.

Address, H. J. Brunner.

Presentation of Charter, by Joe Breckel, governor of Dist. No. 154, Rotary International.

Closing Song.

Benediction, By Rev. Charles Lever, president of Gold Beach club, and rector of Episcopal church.

Gun Club Books Big Shoot, Sunday

Another big shoot, at which sportsmen may hope to win a Christmas turkey or ham, has been booked for Sunday, by the Chetco Rod & Gun Club, at the club house and grounds.

The shoot, held by this club prior to Thanksgiving, caused many fans to ask for more. The advertisement, telling of the big event, appears elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

Harbor Garage will open next Monday, according to announcement elsewhere in this issue. The new place of business, long under construction, is located just up the hill from Harbor Store.

Throngs Patronize "Grand Opening"

"I still wonder where that big crowd, Saturday, came from," was the comment of Lyle Redfield, discussing the opening day, Saturday of his new super-market. "I could not ask for more."

Redfield's new super-market is one of the most up-to-date and attractive markets in southwest Oregon, his patrons were heard to remark. Glen Hurst, returning to his childhood home, was showered with patronage by his old-time friends, in the meat department.

Vet Loans Will Be Liberalized, Ore.

Oregon war veterans farm and home loan amendment liberalized at the election Nov. 7, the World War 2 veterans farm and home act to extend benefits to veterans who enlisted from any other state, but who became an Oregon resident and lived here for at least two years, between date of discharge, and Dec. 31, 1950. The period of active service for loan eligibility as between Sept. 1, 1940 and Sept. 2, 1945.

This act becomes effective as soon as the official ballot count is announced. The loan is made at 4% for the acquisition of home or farms and is in the amount of 75% of the appraised value of the property to be acquired, but cannot exceed $6,000.

Eligibility and loan forms may be had from your county service officer, C. E. Seger, who will gladly assist in preparing these forms. If interested contact C. E. Segar, Gold Beach.

Canasta Party Was Enjoyed, Sat.

A group of canasta players gathered at the party given by the Rebekah Social Club, Saturday night, and enjoyed an evening with the game that has become so popular last year. At the close of play, prizes for high scores went to Agnes Darger and Henry Weigel; the prizes for the low to Adelia Hassett and Glen Simpson; and the door prize to Mary Ettinger.

The Rebekah club plans to begin the annual series of pinochle parties shortly after the first of the year.

SCHOOL NOTES

Friday night the Bruins and Bruinettes travel to Ophir for the first county game of the hoop season. Inasmuch as Ophir Hi does not have a second team, the eighth grade will play Ophir grades. The following Friday Dec. 15, Port Orford comes to Brookings for the first home game. The Pirates will bring both their first and second string boys, but will not bring a volleyball team.

Monday, Dec. 11, the Bruins go to Crescent City and play a return game with the Del Norte boys on the following Monday, Dec. 18.

Saturday, Dec. 9 is the big day—the annual high school carnival with proceeds being used for studentbody functions. Each class is responsible for two or three booths.

The carnival committee is stressing: make the carnival a family night, come and bring the family. Ballots for queen will be counted at 10:30—all ballots are to be turned in before that time. The winner will be announced after the final count, with no partial count released before.

Joe Sarver is chairman of the carnival committee.

OREGONIAN MARKS 100th YEAR WITH 120-PAGE SPECIAL EDITION

December 4, 1950, Monday, marked the 100th year of publication for the Oregonian, at Portland, and that newspaper observed the occasion with a 120-page edition crammed with pictures of interest of the past century, together with accounts of events which did much to shape the pattern of this state.

Perusal of this faultless product of journalism and printing, takes one back into the yesterday, back to the days of the stagecoaches, before railroads, to the time when Oregon, still a territory, had its troubles and growing pains. Careful study of the entire edition leads readers to believe that the growth and growing pains have been constant throughout the century of publication.

Remarkably well planned, this edition has many sections, each devoted to a certain phase of Oregon's development. Constantly before the reader this the idea that The Oregonian grew as Oregon prospered and grew.

Thorough in its coverage of all important things concerning the state's growth, this edition tells of leaders in each field of endeavor, how each, nearly always against unsurmountable

Wranglers To Hold Dance, Dec. 16th

Chetco Wranglers Saddle Club has set Saturday, Dec. 16 as date for its first western-style dance, to be staged at the I. O. O. F. hall. An advance ticket sale is to be held by members, with all proceeds to go towards purchase of property on which a community barn may be built.

It is also the purpose of the club to further the interest of youngsters and their parents, in riding and to take an active part in parades, drills or whatever activity followed by the club.

When the proposed barn and corrals are realized, those of town who wish to have horses, may keep the animals at the barn. A large sale of tickets and a large attendance is expected at the dance. Home-made pies, and cakes, and sandwiches will be served, along with some high-stepping, western music. Wear a bright-colored shirt.

Office Supplies To Be Sold By Pilot

As a beginning to what is beginning of a complete office supply store, may be seen now at the Pilot in two Victor adding Machines, and a Smith-Corona typewriter. Also in stock are a few typewriter ribbons, and adding machine rolls.

In connection with Typo-Print of Gold Beach the Curry County distribution of office supplies is assured by a wholesaler who is granting these firms every possible service.

Later on, agency for cash-registers and complete book-keeping systems will be added as soon as these wants are learned.

Both Typo-Print and Pilot are prepared to give best possible service on all printed forms.

odds, triumphed and brought to the state certain types of prosperity.

Interesting were the pictures of Oregon, taken in the early days, with comparable pictures taken in 1950. Especially striking was this comparison of Tillamook, and of Portland.

Firms of long standing in the state caught the spirit of the occasion, and co-operated generously with advertising, depicting at the same time the firms progress to parallel that of the state.

Always held up to students in all journalism schools as a model newspaper, the Oregonian is ample proof that newspapers are institutions greater than men who establish and run them. A man may die but his newspaper usually will fall into hands even more capable, adding impetus to the publication's worth.

The Oregonian has always been steadfast in its attitude toward national affairs, has always been liberal in its support of the Republican party, but ready, too, to criticize its politicians if the newspaper saw reason.

The Pilot suggests that each school over the state obtain a number of copies of this edition and have them suitably bound to put into libraries. Certainly the students of history could find no greater reference book for any research.

Two Movies Will Feature P.-T. A. At School Tonite

Two movies, each designed to aid the average citizen in his quest for better health, will be featured at the December meeting Parent-Teachers Association, tonight, at the high school gym.

The first, a 11-minute film in "black and white" is entitled: "This is T. B.," and shows the cause, spread, the cure and prevention of this dread scourge. It also shows work to be done in aiding those afflicted.

"Defense Against Invasion," is a 20-minute color film, designed by Walt Disney to show how disease is kept from spreading by immunization against germs of various kinds. Both pictures were loaned to the local group by the Curry County Health Association.

In addition to these movies, the Mothersingers will give two appropriate numbers. Lead by Mrs. Lloyd Morris, music instructor, these singers have been practicing for some time on the numbers.

Refreshments, as usual, will be served at the home economics room following the program.
