

Along Azalea Row

By B. Miller

A gala occasion for Azalea Garden club members will be the dessert luncheon at 1:30 p. m., Dec. 14, in the Grange hall. Chairman of hostesses is that queen of cuisine, Mrs. Vic Reynolds, assisted by Mrs. C. W. Judkins and Mrs. Thomas Carson.

An Olde Tyme Christmas party is planned with Mrs. Harry Lockland in charge of the program. Azalea Carol Singers led by Mrs. Curzon MacKenzie, and accompanied by Mrs. L. A. Harvey, will have a program of melodies and surprises. A gift exchange of home-made or home-grown gifts is to be part of the fun and festivities. Each woman attending should bring some small gift, expressive of her excellence in a department of home making. And if she brings guest, she will bring something for her as well, so that Santa's bag holds a remembrance for every woman present.

Mrs. B. E. Kerns, Sr., requests all attending the meeting to bring a child's out-grown toy in good condition, or some article suitable for older people, so that, in spirit of the season, garden club members remember less fortunate persons than themselves. Yuletide ideas for holiday festivities will be presented by Mrs. Charles Grayshel.

Wednesday morning, Dec. 12, at 10 a. m. women of the garden club and friends will meet at the Grange hall to assist Mrs. Lloyd Harbin in making Christmas decorations for Camp White.

Here at Weedy Acres cookies are abaking, and the Christmas preparations increase in tempo as mailing dates draw near. We plan to get our packages and cards in the postoffice soon now to not be caught in the last-minute rush.

A friend indeed, is the friend who comes bringing a luscious looking fruit cake just when we are about to stir up one ourselves, and thus saves us the labor, and the time.

If there are any brides on the Christmas list, a gift suggestion is one of the attractive roll baskets which may be obtained here in town at a nominal cost. Add a dainty napkin, and several of your favorite bread, cake or roll recipes. Brides are always very happy to receive sure-fire recipes—particularly for wholesome, husband-pleasing dishes. The combination of bread basket, the napkin and recipes makes a suitable and inexpensive gift.

*"Yet each man spoils the one he loves,
And gratifies her wishes;
The rich man showers her with gifts,
The poor man dries the dishes."*

LOCAL NEWS

Chetco home extension unit will meet Tuesday, Dec. 12, at 10:30 at the Grange hall. The subject will be vegetable cookery. There will be a pot luck luncheon at noon and the group will be able to try out the vegetables cooked. Every woman is welcome—and this means you.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Ashland have purchased the cabins and property owned by Mrs. Martha Steen above Harbor, and plan to move there in the spring. Mrs. Smith is sister of A. L. Hall who recently purchased the Baxter Motor Court, which adjoins the Steen property.
