

Bruins Take Two From Port Orford In First Home Tilts

Port Orford Pirates gave the Brookings Bruins the scares of their lives last Friday evening in the first home games of the current hoop season, and looked for a time to have the number of the local lads. Only their inability at the foul line spelled the eventual defeat. Score of the "B" squads was 30-28; and "A" 49 to 34.

It can be said without reservation that Art Guthrie spent a number of anxious moments in the first game, and especially in the first half of the "A" game, which stood 20-all at the time. Still trying to find the "right combination" of players, Guthrie made frequent substitutions.

However, in the third quarter the Bruins settled down to work in a business-like manner to tally 25 points while Port Orford was gathering but eight. With game secure at that point, and after three regulars had gone out via five personals, the game was one which the fans really appreciated for its action.
