Nowhere A Finer Climate - Nowhere a Finer Community

VOLUME FIVE, NUMBER XXXIV

BROOKINGS, CURRY COUNTY, OREGON

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1950

P.-T. A. Slates Subject For Jan.

"Are you too strict with your children? Too lenient?"

The local Parent-Teachers association invites you to come to see the film, "Preface to a Life," to be shown at the high school on January 4. See how the childhood treatment molds the future of the child.

Everyone is urged to attend as this is a film of vast interest to every parent of pre-school and school age children.

Crocketts Have Grade 'A' Barn

To meet requirements of the California and Oregon Grade "A" milk, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crockett have completed a new barn on their place, south of Harbor.

Requirements are so rigid, it has been pointed out, that a barn must be almost palatial in all things concerning sanitation and handling of milk. The barn is reported to cost in excess of $10,000. People are invited to inspect it if they wish.

Mary Lou Tygart Married Saturday

At Sacramento, last Saturday, at 7:00 p. m., at St. Johns Lutheran church, Mary Lou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Tygart, became the bride of Doyle Christensen, of Provo, Utah, now a member of the State Engineers of California, in the dams division. Mrs. Tygart attended, and returned immediately.

The couple left immediately on a honeymoon trip to southern California, during which they will attend the Rose Bowl game between California and Michigan, Mary Lou attended University of Oregon while Doyle was graduated from University of Utah. During World War 2 he was an officer in the U. S. Air Force.

Low Voltage Slows Pilot Operation

Last week, and again this week, voltage was so low that it was difficult to produce type on the Linotype. After casting one line, it was necessary to wait a moment before trying to cast another, thus cutting the speed to less than one-half.

In addition to being annoying this handicap prevented the Pilot from setting some county records for this issue.

With a temperature control, a Linotype keeps its type metal at a temperature of 535 to 540 for proper fusing point. Variation of even a degree more or less than these temperatures hampers all operation. Cold type is "pitted" so that the letters do not appear distinct and sharp. Too hot metal has almost a like effect.

This area is not alone in its complaint about low voltage — the entire system in and about Crescent City has the same difficulty.

Knox Retires After 20 Years

Agricultural extension service was established in Curry County in 1930, and here to launch the work was Robert M. Knox, as County Agent. Mr. Knox resigned in December, after almost 20 years of faithful service. In the beginning Mr. Knox handled the entire load, as best he could under circumstances. Now a home demonstration agent takes part of the load, and aids with 4-H club program, which has gained tremendously in that time.

Under Knox's tenure of office 4-H club work has become a great factor in the training of youth in the county. Several of his former club members have become outstanding in the nation, especially Ralph Cope of Langlois, whose cow set the world's record in milk production earlier in the year. In his resignation Mr. Knox said:

"I herewith submit my last report, and I leave with regrets, the extension service after more than 20 years of living on the job in Curry County. I have enjoyed every minute of it. I am proud to have been the first county agent to introduce the work in a new county, and to have been associated with the finest people to work for and with, that can be found anywhere in the world."

Goulds Shoe Store To Move Jan. 15

Gould's Shoe Store, which has been housed in the former REA office, next to the Bakery, will move about Jan. 15, to the Vincent Building, and will occupy that space formerly used as dining room and that of the Shadow Room. Remodeling is being done now.

The Gould Shoe Store started in December, 1947, in the then Templar hotel, in a portion of the lobby which had been partitioned off. The following year, the store moved to the present location in order to expand with the demands made upon it. Present quarters have long been inadequate.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Gould and family went to Coos Bay Christmas day to visit their nephew, Bob Shehan and family.

Realty Transfers

The Ruth Carr property on Pine Street, Brookings, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ingram of Orinda, Calif. The sale of this property was handled by the C. O. and L. L. Leonard Real Estate Agency.

Miss Betti Goldizen arrived on Thursday from Ventura, Calif., to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Goldizen. Vernon did not come home, as had been expected.

Capacity Crowd Heard Choir Rendition of "Christmas Story" Sunday Evening

Standing room only was available at the choir's rendition of "The Christmas Story" at Baptist Community Church Sunday evening, and those who were fortunate enough to be present were treated with music just little short of professional. Assisting the choir were the Azalea Singers and several members of the Barbershop chorus. Mrs. Gilbert Christensen played "Holy City" on the violin, in addition to the published program.

SMITH RIVER

New Years Ball

Posters are out announcing the annual New Years Ball to be held at the Community hall, on New Years Eve, Dec. 31. The committees are working to make this a gay affair. Good music has been engaged and this promises to be one dance that you will not wish to miss.

Civil Defense Registration

Registration was held Dec. 18, under sponsorship of Post 712, American Legion for Civilian Defense and Disaster. The board registered 172 at the Community hall. As this was but one-third of the population a house-to-house canvass will be made to obtain the remainder. Kenneth Layman has been appointed as co-ordinator in this area, from the Fine Memorial Bridge north to the state line. Classes in special training for emergency program will begin soon.

Other Smith River Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buckner and children who live on the island of Smith River, are moving to Crescent City where they purchased a house near Pebble Beach to live during the winter months moving back during the summer. During high water Smith River overflows, washes out the road and makes it impossible to get in or out.

Many homes in this area had old-time Christmases this year, observing the event with family re-unions and lighted trees showing through windows, or out door trees. Among the homes where relatives were present, included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horn and children of Klamath Falls who spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Mabel Browne. Mr. and Mrs. Murtin Rice of Portland were guests at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Barnum.

Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Knudson left early Christmas morning for Shasta to spend Christmas with their son and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Newell Knudson.

Mrs. Rhoda Prock enjoyed a Christmas eve party at her home Sunday when her eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren gathered for an evening affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woods are parents of a girl, born Dec. 21 at Seaside Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Layman.

A basketball game, featuring the Ramrods, sponsored by the Rod & Gun Club, will be played Thursday evening at the high school gym against the Cave Junction quintet, reputed to be a pretty nifty outfit. The game is set for 8 p. m.

Following the prelude by Mrs. Bert DeMoss, Mrs. C. A. MacKenzie and the choir rendered "O Holy Night." Rev. John Mumbower, between musical numbers, read the Story of the birth of Christ, from the Book of St. Luke.

A double trio sang "Away in a Manger," followed by "Christ Is Born" by the choir.

Azalea Singers, under direction of Mrs. MacKenzie, sang "The First Noel," and Mrs. Emil Moore sang "Sweet Little Boy Jesus."

After a male quartet had sung "O Come all Ye Faithful" Mrs. Gilbert Christensen gave a violin solo, "Holy City."

"Star in the Eastern Sky" was a number given by Azalea Singers, and another male quartet sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are." The choir closed the program with "Ring Christmas Bells."

Flax Article Draws National Attention

Pilot readers will remember an article concerning New Zealand flax, published Nov. 23. National recognition now has been given this same article written by Mrs. B. Miller, when Christian Science Monitor gave a like amount of space to the potential industry.

This is the second time in almost as many weeks Mrs. Miller has "cracked" into the columns of this national publication.

Starting out as publicity director for Azalea Garden Club, she began with "Along Azalea Row," to further interests and aims of this club. This chore took her fancy and now she has learned to enjoy writing until it has become an ambition.

Mrs. Miller, who never had any formal training in this work, has developed a style which is popular among readers. She has a quaint and clever way of expressing herself that people like.

With Mrs. Miller around, it is more than likely that this area will be given further publicity in various publications.
