Shower Honors Mrs. Thetford
 Mrs. Robert Thetford was guest of honor at a surprise stork shower given by Miss Muriel Hughes and the girls homemaking class March 7 at the high school. The gifts were grouped on a long table which was covered with a white cloth and centered with a large bowl of daffodils banked on either side by candles. Center of attraction was a bathinett presented to the honored guest by the girls.

Present were the honored guest and son, the hostesses, Miss Hughes, Mar and Beverly Mermilliod, Donna Hofsess, Morene Bruchler, Bertie Britton, Graymarie DeHaven and Mesdames Elsie Quinn, Carrie Boice, Alma Deets, Jean Hale and sons, Frances Everest, Essie Crew, Florence Thorhaven, Thelma Kane, Pat Donaldson, Lillian Berg, Ruth Pilling, and daughters, C. C. Turner, Winifred Aldropp, Mimi Aldropp, Evelyn Boice, Ollie Britton, Dorothy Doane, Vera Cadman, Pauline Anderson, Dorothy Lee and daughter, Eulla Mastropolitto, Doroles Brooks and Wilma Jensen.

Langlois News Notes
 Mrs. Mabel Lafferty of Gold Beach called on Mr. and Mrs. F. Moore last Saturday.

The first lesson for the Better Cotton Dress Shop for Langlois Home Extension members was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Jean Strain. Mrs. Strain was the leader. Those taking part in the Dress Shop were Mesdames Evelyn Boice, Ada Campbell, Florence Thorhaven, Dorothy Lee, and Miss Nancy Moore. The next meeting will be Friday, March 23 at the home of Mrs. Marian Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bierman and their four children, Nelda, Ted, Orma and Carolyn, moved to Colorado Saturday. They have sold their farm to Paul Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards arrived home Sunday after spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Higgins, at Catching Creek.

The monthly Youth Dance was held Friday, March 16, at the Grange hall.

E. E. Duff, formerly of Brookings, has bought a home at Laurel Grove and will open a barber shop here this week. The shop will be in a building on Dinty's property. Mrs. Duff is an artist and writer. A feature article, written and illustrated by her appeared in The Oregonian last Sunday.

Rev. Hunt of Eugene was in charge of the church services at the Langlois Community Church, last Sunday.

"Feuding in the Hills" was declared a hit by the members of the audience who saw this play last Thursday and Friday evenings when it was presented by the senior class at the gym. The play was about a feud between two mountain families, the Martins and the Pruitts, Grandma and Pa Martin (Breie Britton and Robert L. Thetfor, a teacher) hated the Pruitts so badly that they would rather starve than end the feud. Due to the fact that their son, Sam (Darrell Price) had become educated and taught the rest of the family the folly of their ways, the Pruitts were willing to be at least friendly. Sam was in love with the Martin's daughter, Edna

Mae (Donna Hofsess) but the rest of the Martin family stood in the way of their marriage. The romance seemed hopeless when Pa Martin was injured while out to stir up trouble and the Pruitts took him to their home and cared for him. Pa soon realized that the Pruitts and their "new-fangled" ways weren't so bad after all and he gave his blessings to Sam and Edna Mae. Everyone was happy except Grandma. Others in the cast were: Mrs. Martin (Morene Bruchler); the Martin's other daughter, Zula (Beverly Mermilliod) another romantic pair; and Dr. Ambercrombie (Arthur Sypher) and his daughter Myrtle (Patty Boice).

The marriage of Beverly Wilson and Carol Susan Nelson will take place at the Blakely ranch on the Winchuck river, Sunday, March 26. Beverly will leave on Monday for army service.

Word from Louie Stoller, for about two months a patient at the Veterans hospital, Portland, is that he is recovering from a major operation, and is on the upgrade. He is looking forward to getting loose while the chittem bark is still in the "slip" stage.

Another invitation party for members and eligibles to the V. F. W. Post and Auxiliary is slated for the evening of March 30, at the local hall. The program offered has proven so attractive present restricted accommodations require admission by membership or invitation only.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barton and two children have moved from Harbor to their home on Easy Street to live. Bill's brother, Dick, and his wife, have been occupying the house since their marriage last summer. Bill will be employed by the Brookings Garage.

Irene Huntington has purchased the Ina DeMoss property, on Pioneer Road.
