

Former Resident Liked School Picture; Tells of "Old Times" About This Area

Editor, Pilot: It was with pleasure that I saw the copy of the old school picture in your paper as I own one of the original pictures. I am sure the picture was taken in 1922. The teacher was Miss Gladys Breen and I still have report cards signed by her.

The school house is an old brown shingled building that was used before the redwood school house was built. Both were destroyed by fire in 1935. We were called to school by an old-fashioned bell that could be heard all over town.

The main part of town was located by the road that went in front of Tom Moore's hill. I have several old time pictures. One is

Tri-County Directory Attempted By Pilot

Groundwork is being laid this week at Crescent City, Gold Beach and Coos Bay, obtaining lists of the resident of the three counties, to be included in a tri-county directory, being attempted by the Pilot.

These names will be taken at the court houses, hoping that all the people will, in some manner, be included in the directory.

The Pilot, as early as four years ago, was apprised of the great need for such a book. On investigation, it was found best to include the three counties, and already advance sales are sufficient to warrant a big attempt.

Entertains Mothersingers

Mrs. Dewey Akers, one of the group of Mothersingers, entertained the group at pot luck dinner Monday evening, honoring Mrs. Lloyd Morris, local music teacher, and state chairman, who will not be with the local group next year. Following dinner the group practiced for the forthcoming appearances.

Fair Books Almost Done

Printing will be completed by Saturday of the Curry County Premium lists for the forthcoming fair, to be held over the Labor Day week-end. Assembling and stapling the books will be completed early next week, after which distribution will be made by the county agent's office.

the bank and the postoffice which were little shingle-covered buildings about 9x22 feet.

The only large buildings were the company office, Driskell hotel and store, and the St. George hotel. The company store was located across from the old cook house in an old unpainted building.

We moved to Brookings in '19 by wagon. My father worked in the mill until it closed, and then was watchman until 1931 when it was dismantled.

Our main entertainment was watching the ships unload freight and shows on Wednesday and Saturdays. Tom Moore's hill was the play spot for we children.

It's amusing to think of the first radio in Brookings. It was bought by Sager Mann who built the building that has since been called the Harris building. He charged 25c for anyone who cared to pay to listen. After trying for an hour he returned the money because he couldn't get any programs. In the winter time, the storms sometimes would cut off the mail for a week at a time. Brookings has changed til it has no resemblance to the older place of the early '20s. Your truly, Mrs. Josephine Pfefferle Durgin, 1526 Gary Street, Klamath Falls.

(The Pilot is grateful to Mrs. Durgin for this information concerning her former home. The interest in these pictures is much gratifying to ye editor).

Buy's Ocean Homesite

Lynn Hampton, local superintendent of schools, has purchased an ocean front lot in the Fountain Rock subdivision, just west of town, adjoining the residence of W. J. Collis. It is understood that Mr. Hampton plans construction of a home there soon.

LOCAL NEWS

Homes in the Cape Ferrello district are now being electrified according to R. E. Simmons.

Thor and Ole Ask left Monday for the Seattle area where they plan to make their future homes. Little was divulged to the Pilot about their plans.

Mrs. Bob Williams is at Bak-ersfield for a week's stay.
