

FERRY'S MOBIL STATION OFFICIALLY OPENS HERE SATURDAY, JUNE 2nd

The newest addition to Brookings business community, Ferry's Mobil Station, will officially open its doors Saturday, June 2. A huge celebration is planned to mark the inaugural day of the Red & White unit at the southwest corner of Hwy 101 and Pacific.

Operator of the new station is Vern Edgmon, a Brookings resident. He is a veteran service station operator and he is prepared to offer complete automotive service and know-how to motorists. Owner of the station is Tom P. Ferry.

The station is equipped to provide complete automotive service. Such convenience as pick-up and delivery service will be available to customers, as well as the complete line of Mobil products and services—including car washing and waxing. During the summer months the station will be open from 6 a. m. to midnight. Regular hours of operation are from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. Saturday's opening festivities will feature free gifts of all kinds including hand lotion for the ladies; cigars for men and toys and balloons for the children. Valuable prizes will also be given away. First prize is a new Mobil battery; second prize a lubrication job and third is an assortment of Mobil specialty items.

In The Mail-box:

Editor, Pilot: I don't see the sense of giving away expensive food to a lot of people who did not need it while its cost could have been put into the new ambulance so it could be all ready when some of these same people really need it.

They could have just as well charged for the food and coffee and we would have had the money to buy a big piece of ambulance or a decent place to take care of it and the fire truck. — Terry Lombard, city.

Editor, Pilot: I want to thank all of my Oregonian customers for the gracious co-operation they have given me this month. My daughter, Ruth, will deliver the papers while I am gone. — Many thanks.—Dorothy Simpson.
