Girl Scouts of Brookings and Harbor area should contact their leaders and persuade their parents to also attend these services, Saturday evening.

The public is cordially invited and a special invitation is extended to all V. F. W. Auxiliary members, their families and all friends.

New Writer To Contribute Column

With this issue of the Pilot B. Miller bids her readers goodbye. No longer publicity chairman for the Azalea Garden Club, she is nappy knowing this position will be filled competently by Mrs. Charles Grayshel. New faces, words and ideals stimulate new thoughts for us all, said B. Miller to the Pilot.

She has enjoyed her weekly visit with her reader friends, and she will miss them. The thanks them all for their kindly thoughts—and yes—for their many gifts. Digressing here she wishes to report that Tithonia Torch does not do well here even with careful coddling, probably because there are no hot summers. But, Marigold Glitters grow beautifully.

She wishes to acknowledge too, the friendly relationship which has always existed between her and the Pilot. More than once the publisher kept her from stubbing her toe in this column. The publisher has been considerate and sympathetic.

Along Azalea Row was the Brain Child of Mrs. Bradley Page who, as publicity chairman of the Azalea Garden Club, launched the column with the Pilot. When her turn came B. Miller took over, and each woman brought it to her own peculiar slant on garden club and community news. To B. Miller, Along Azalea Row

Funks Speak To Gold Beach Rotary

GOLD BEACH—Mr. and Mrs. George Funk of Brookings were guest speakers last week at the Rotary luncheon. The Funks showed unusual colored pictures taken by them of the recent Oakland Flower Show.

Stanton Allison, vice-president and chief counsel of Commonwealth Inc., Portland, was also speaker, on photographic methods in the title insurance business. He was in town a few days with the local agency, the Title Guarantee and Abstract Co., and its local manager, Orville Ginsmer, to discuss the various ways in which the use of protographic methods have replaced the former use of typewritten records and copying.

Mr. Allison stated that the local company had recently installed a system of making its daily take-off of the court house recording by photostating. The records of the various offices throughout the state are now being microfilmed for protection in case of fire or other casualty.

New Office Due

W. H. Brady and B. B. Crabb Co. have leased that section of the Gardner building, until recently the bus depot, and after July 1, will establish a real estate office, with W. H. Brady as owner, and Crabb Co. to head an accounting office and insurance.

Appeal For Floats!

We wish all mills, and organizations to put in a float in the Lily Parade.

We are trying to contact each of these before July 8, but those we are not able to reach, leave name at Moore's Variety and Apparel Shop.

A large percentage of the merchants and mills will put in floats and we feel this is going to be the biggest year since the start of Lily Parade, five years ago. Many want to make the fifth parade by far the biggest. Float Committee.

1. Remember July 10!
2. Exercise your right of franchise.

3. Vote your convictions.
4. The committee of 25 which brought the plan to the people has no desire to force individual rights.
