

Full Gospel Church To Start In Area

Rev. W. R. Patterson and family who recently moved here, announce their intentions to conduct religious services in this community in line with the faith and teaching of the Pentecostal groups. And they extend a hearty welcome to all who may be living in the surrounding territory along with all other friends of the cause of Christ to band together in this worthy purpose.

Until other arrangements can be made, services will be held each Sunday, beginning September 23, in the Odd Fellows hall. See regular church columns for further particulars as to time of services, etc.

Rev. and Mrs. Patterson have been affiliated with the general the First Assembly of God church in San Diego, Calif. They are establishing their home here, having purchased some property on Pioneer Road, where they are building their home.

They will be preaching and singing over Radio Station KCRE on the Echoes of Calvary program Sunday at 1:30 p.m., concurrently with Pastors N. R. Ingram of Klamath and D. L. Rhodes of Crescent City.

Thursday, September 13, 2 p.m. (put a ring around that date.) It is Azalea Garden club meeting time. Note also that the meeting will be held for this one time at the Sign of the Golden Goat, in the newly decorated lobby. Mrs. Lyle Redfield, Mrs. John Gillis and Mrs. George Weber will act as hostesses, and with the assistance of the management tea will be served to a background of suitable tea music. None of us will want to miss this meeting, whether fuchsia fanciers or not. Mrs. Phil Brady of the Oregon Fuchsia society is to be the guest speaker. The long trip from Portland to Brookings will be made by Mrs. Brady just for our special benefit. With the start of the fall season, which also means the start of a new year for the Garden club, it is a good time to give thought to bringing new members into the club, and the September meeting will be an especially interesting one for newcomers and guests. One of my nicest early recollections of Brookings was my introduction to the Garden club as a newcomer by one of its members. And it is so easy and takes so little time to stop by at your nearest new neighbor's home and make arrangements to take her with you to one of the meetings.

To get back to the program for Thursday, we have been expecting for quite some time now to receive the Hobby and Craft Exhibit to display at one of the meetings, and it is now scheduled to be here Thursday. This is a display of garden handicraft gathered from all over Oregon. It is the property of the Oregon

Federation of Garden Clubs and consists of novel ideas for gifts the year around; as well as an artistic display of seed pictures, aprons for gardeners and so forth. This exhibit is shipped over the state to garden clubs and is in great demand. It comes to the Azalea Garden club from Myrtle Point and will be shipped from here to Powers, Ore.

The ladies who took the time and trouble to enter specimens and arrangements in the county fair at Gold Beach this year were well rewarded for their efforts. Clara Kerns brought back two blue ribbons: one for a mixed flower arrangement and one on a miniature arrangement. Edith Ackley won red, white and pink ribbons on her display of zinnias and Japanese sunflowers. Bee Miller, who tries to tell us that she is no arranger whatever received a blue ribbon for her kitchen arrangement of red geraniums in a brown container; second prize on a miniature arrangement and another blue ribbon for French marigolds. Mrs. Will Crissy's specimens rated three blue ribbons, two red ribbons, one white and one pink. The ladies who participated in the fair this year are convinced that the rest of us passed up a good bet. They plan to do even better next year.

Huntington-Stennett

A wedding ceremony at the Community church in Gold Beach on September 1 united Irene Huntington of Brookings and Kenneth Stennett of Portland in marriage. Rev. Sidney Walker officiated and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Leathers of Gold Beach were attendants.

Mr. Stennett has been associated with the water company of Portland.

They will make their home in Brookings on Pioneer Road.

S. S. Class Party

On Wednesday, September 12, at 1:30 p.m., the members of Mrs. J. E. Stevenson's Sunday school class at the Community church will meet at the post office, where transportation will be arranged to the home of Mrs. Milton De Martin for a social afternoon. New women of the area are especially invited.
