

SMITH RIVER

Man Killed In Sawmill

Jerry Boyer, 34, of this place, was instantly killed about 9:30 Friday morning when he was crowded by a log and fell into the saw at Crawford Mill, on the highway here.

Boyer had been working at the mill about three weeks. He formerly was truck driver for Ender Bottling Works, Crescent City. He is survived by his widow, Jean Lockwood Boyers and two children, David, 10 and Sheila; a brother, James of Salinas, and his parents.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. from Wier's chapel, at Crescent City with Father Thos. Bracken officiating. Interment was at Crescent City.

Sub-District Meeting Held

The sub-district meeting of the WSCS of the Methodist church was held at the local church on Tuesday with representatives here from Fortuna, Eureka, Klamath, Crescent City, Gushchu, and the local church. Registration began at 10:30 with chairman, Mrs. Carol Ross of Fortuna presiding at the business session. Special solo was given by W. Brown. Guest speaker was Mrs. Marie Herrick and luncheon was served at the community hall at noon by the Smith River society.

Smith River Items

Mrs. Edith Johnson of Eureka accompanied her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, to Smith River Sunday where Mrs. Johnson will visit friends and relatives.

THE HARMONETTES, Brookings, Oregon

Popular and much in demand in this area are the Harmonettes, who brought color to the Parade last Saturday. They are; back row, left to right — Bernadine Steele, tenor; Lucille Patterson, bass; Betty Young, lead and Jean Panzer, baritone. Their popularity has become state-wide and are sought in all parades.

Mrs. Agnes Maris enjoyed a visit with her granddaughter, Mrs. Clyde Childers, and family, of San Anselmo, who spent their vacation here. Mrs. Childers is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tyler of San Anselmo.

business so he could be here to take in the affair. Orville likes Barbershopping and is sorry his town doesn't have a chapter.

All the barbershoppers I had an opportunity to meet were inquisitive about the progress of this area. They were full of good for the people of the area which so many have come to love and enjoy. That, my friends, is one of the great things about Barbershopping, as I see it.

A goal for the Barbershoppers in this area would be a hall to seat about a thousand people. It then would be possible for the group to come into its own in popularity it so deserves. This chapter might find many willing helpers in this project within the next few months or year.

Am looking forward to hearing a report from the city council after its visit at the convention of the League of Oregon Cities. Never, in nearly all my life before have I seen five men who take their task more seriously, hope to build well the government of this city. They may be making mistakes, but not knowingly. I predict that they will be ready to offer the city a wonderful charter soon.

In those meetings I have listened to, the chief concern of the group is to draw up a liberal charter which will do the most good to the most people. Their proposed charter will be one which will be flexible, be no hardship on anyone.

These men are thinking men—men who have the welfare of all in mind when they make deliberations of any kind. Perhaps many of them do not see everything your way—but I hasten to say that they will not plan anything which will be against you.

Ordinances will be patterned after the models offered by the League of Oregon Cities, altered to fit the immediate needs of this city. They will be passed only after they have been given due consideration, and not before.

Council Met, Tues.

The city council met Tuesday evening at the Pete Lesmeister office in regular session to complete what work possible before the group will go to Portland to attend the League of Oregon Cities next week, hoping to come back with all the information needed to choose the right ordinances and charter for submission to the voters.

Were you thrilled last Saturday evening to listen to the Barbershop Parade of Quartets? I was. I marvel how just ordinary fellows, like you saw there on the stage, who live to sing, produce such music. Perhaps Grand Opera would sneer, but I'd like to see Grand Opera give forth with the general appeal to the American people.

If anyone wonders how Barbershoppers are thought of elsewhere you might ask Orville Gensmer, of Gold Beach, with the Title Guarantee and Abstract Co., of Gold Beach, who arranged his
