Football games along the Pacific coast last week-end went pretty true to predictions, with both Oregon colleges taking another licking. However, Oregon State did make a creditable issue in its game at Berkeley by scoring twice on the powerful Golden Bears team. Washington State had no difficulty topping the Oregon Ducks at Pullman.

Stanford, at Seattle, defeated the Washington Huskies, and all but eliminated them from any hopeful Rose Bowl chance this year. At the moment this honor will go to the winner of the U. S. C-Stanford game later this fall. Northern schools in the conference have little chance to do a thing this year, except, perhaps, to upset best laid plans of the California schools.

The Oregonian recognizes this area as one of Oregon's most promising areas, is attested by the fact that Ralph Vincent was sent here to "shoot" pictures—plenty of pictures, so that special features may be published concerning this present rapid expansion. The Oregonian, conservative as it has always been, does not waste its space on any boom plans or ideas. It recognizes only those of real promise.

If housing were only available, I would be quick to predict that this area would be over-run by scores of people who would come to locate, in order to get in on expansion plan. Perhaps, then, it is a blessing in disguise that so few houses and business places are available. May be wrong on this thought but that is the way it looks to me.

Stop and think of the fun Paul Davis will have with his group of 4-H tractor club boys in the next couple of year—of how he must be able to answer the many—oh, so many—questions which will be hurled at him by the inquisitive minds of those lads who like to get into grease up to their elbows, and work wrenches on something like a tractor.

Frankly, Pilot readers, this kind or work with the youth will keep old age from creeping up too soon on a lot of us. Those minds, so keen, so alert, must be kept working—along something constructive, or the society which surrounds them will have their presence in court of some kind.

Value of 4-H work cannot be over-emphasized one particle. The men of tomorrow will be only as good as we of today help them reach. After all they look to us as we did to our elders some years ago. What were your elders then—now, let us give even better to the youth today.

Those who heard the girls tell of summer school at Corvallis—of how much they absorbed of the training given them in such a short time, will never doubt the good to be derived. Then, later, this community saw the number of prizes won by these same girls and boys at the county and state fairs. Can any of us doubt, then, what has been done by this club work?

More leaders are sorely needed in the south end of the county. Both Clifford Jenkins, county agent, and Miss Wanda Gossage, home demonstration agent, are appealing for people to step forward and become leaders. Who? I am not able to say, but there are many women and men who could just about have the times of their lives working with these youngsters.

A letter or card to either of these leaders at Gold Beach would bring them on the dead run, I feel certain. Really, the amount of time devoted to these club activities will never be missed, nor regretted, if you once see the intense eagerness of the youth.

Thanks Offered For Mercy Fund

In an interview with the Pilot, Mrs. Verna Mendenhall said: "I wish to express my appreciation in behalf of Chetco Unit, American Legion, my committee, all organizations, their committees and people who did such marvelous work in making Lazella Sternberg skin graft mercy fund a success.

"Considerable credit must also be given to our county health nurse, Dorothea Miller, and Mr. Olney of the county welfare commission, in making all arrangements for Lazella's care.

"It is functions like this that makes us appreciate our democratic way of life.

"I am happy to report at this time that Lazella is healing, is gaining a little weight, getting a little color in her face and is taking an interest in things. It is all you people that have made this possible through her doctor.

"Certainly it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Council Appoints City Engineer, Tue.

Charles T. M. Echols has been appointed city engineer by the council, for a retainer fee of $25 per month, to sit in on council meetings when street problems are discussed, and to help with city planning.

The office of city judge had, at the time this paper went to press, not been filled. The disposition of the council seemed to be that the wish was that the judge be inclined to show courtesy instead of the attitude so prevalent over the state among police judges.

Mr. Means, night policeman, asked for a month's leave of absence, stating he was going to have a physical checkup and try to improve his general health.

The Kenneth Barker family is moving to their new home just east of the greenhouses this week.

Mrs. Stanley Patterson was released from Seaside Hospital, on Sunday, and is now recuperating at her home. She was taken to Crescent City Tuesday, suffering from pneumonia.
