Ladies Auxiliary To Fraternal Order Of Eagles Instituted Here Saturday Evening

Going on the assumption that no organization or lodge is any stronger or greater than its auxiliary, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Saturday, instituted an auxiliary to Aerie 3089, Saturday afternoon and evening at the local Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

At 2:00 p. m. T. T. Turner of Portland, as installing office, assisted by other state or district officers, Mary Brown of Cave Junction, State Secretary, and Hap Lloyd, Cave Junction, district deputy, 56 charter members were inducted into the new aerie, 41 by initiation.

Officers of the new aerie who were seated, include:

Madam Junior Past President—Mildred James.

Madam President—Evelyn Jaklewicz.

Madam Vice-president—Myrtle Collins.

Madam Chaplain—Edna Weigel.

Madam Conductress—Margaret Huey.

Madam Secretary—Hazel Weisener.

Madam Treasurer—Winona Cross.

Inside Guardian—Edwina Galloway.

Outside Guardian—Patricia Zook.

Trustees: Marie Thatcher, Dorothy Harroun and Thelma Becker.

The Cave Junction drill team of Cave Junction assisted in the installation and initiation.

Meeting Dates Are Set

Meetings dates of the new organization have set for second and fourth Fridays, with the first for this Friday, at the V. F. W. hall.

Guests at the installation on Sunday were from Grants Pass, Medford, Cave Junction and Tillamook.

First Log Will Be Turned, This Week At Plywood Plant

Ed Sund is all smiles—actually it's getting to be real mirth.

At 4 p. m. Tuesday, he lighted the first fire in the huge boiler at the Plywood Plant. In the 175-foot stack, there seemed to be no smoke, so he added a tire for effect. Steam was raised Wednesday, preparing for the first lathe test Thursday, when the first log will be attached for the initial turning.

Explained Ed Sund, this is a test. All machinery, as installed, is tested so that everything will "re right" once the plant is to open for operation.

Plans call for start of operations shortly after the first of the year. Of course, there will be a week, possibly more, before the plant can be put into maximum production.

Rebekahs Name 1952 Officers.

At the last regular meeting of Topaz Rebekah lodge, officers for the first six months of 1952 were elected:

Noble Grand—Harriett Baker.

Vice-Grand—Pauline Tygart.

Recording Secretary—Cleo Craig.

Financial Secretary—Kathryn Reekman.

Treasurer—Irene Koeller.

A joint installation of officers with the Odd Fellows is planned for January 8.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party for Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families, which is set for Thursday evening, Dec. 27.

Following the meeting, a gift exchange was held and a social hour enjoyed. Each member had brought a present to be sent to Lozella Sternberg, to help make her Christmas a happy one. Mrs. Verna Mendenhall reported that enough money had been donated by organizations and individuals to buy Lozella a small radio and a record player, which help her pass the time, as she is still unable to move any part of her body except her head.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kerns and Mrs. Clara Kerns will go to a family re-union at Klamath Falls Christmas day.

R. V. Kinion, who recently left here for southern California to live, returned the first of the week and was married to Mrs. Mary Ettinger. The couple will live on Easy Street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hall left Tuesday for Richmond, Calif., to spend the holidays with their son and family, and daughter and family.

Jimmy Peterson, of Murphy, Oregon, arrived Wednesday to spend Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peterson and family. While vacationing, he helped with some of the press work at the Pilot.

History of Coos and Curry will soon be on the press, stated a communication from Clara A. Stauff, secretary of the Coos-Curry Pioneer association, Coquille. These books will be ready for sale at the annual meeting, early in February, she said in a letter to the Pilot this week.

Listen to the broadcast of the youth movement meeting held on Wednesday—over KCRE at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

It is our hope that the traditional peace of the holiday remain everlastingly so.

The Pilot Staff

C. of C. Program Broadcast Friday

Meeting of representatives of most of the organizations of the community, Wednesday noon, at the regular chamber of commerce meeting, was put on a tape, to be re-broadcast, Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. from KCRE, Crescent City.

Those interested in the youth movement of the area, should tune in at that time to hear the early discussion.

Meeting of all committeemen will be advertised sometime after the first of the year. The movement seems to have gained at a more rapid pace than first anticipate.

Power Outage Cuts Pilot Issue

Power outage, Tuesday morning, cut at least four pages from the present issue of the Pilot, since the deadline to make the Christmas advertising effective could not be extended.

Some of the correspondence had to be cut to make fit space, of the sixteen pages of this issue. Some will be carried over until next week.

Bruins Smother Cave Jct. Teams In Pair, Saturday

Brookings Bruins kept up their winning ways last Saturday evening by smothering the visiting Illinois Valley High School quints 67 to 33 in the second team tussle and 62 to 47 with the first stringers. Fitzhugh, with 26, and Weiler with 12 lead the scorers.

In the B squad game, Illinois Valley was never in the game from the first moment, but in the A squad game, the story was different when play got pretty rough—with practically the entire Cave Junction bunch going out on fouls and several of the Bruins, as well.

Mrs. H. S. Cadman of Langlois visited the Charles Sabin home Thursday and Friday.

Infant Daughter Of Ben Kerns Passes

Graveside services for Linda Claire Kerns, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kerns, were held at 2 p. m., Monday at Wm. James Ward Memorial Park, with Rev. John L. Mumbower officiating, under direction of Roeder Funeral home.

Linda Clair, born, Sept. 28, was never robust from time of birth. Death came early Saturday morning, apparently while in sleep.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a sister, Nancy Virginia, brother, David Gordon, all of this place; grandparents, Mrs. Ben Kerns Sr. of Harbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Matson of Klamath Falls.
